Is Health Worth Having?

If it is, protect it. It is a jewel as easily lost as virtue, and in some cases as difficult to recover. Nature, in our climate, and especially at this season, requires to be occasionally reinforced. But everything depends upon the tonic used for this purpose. The medicinal tinctures, all of which are based on common alcohol, are dangerous. Quinine, as everybody finds out who takes much of it, is a slow poison. One safe protective from all unhealthy atmospheric influences exists, and one only. This powerful preventive is Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters, a compound of the purest stimulants ever manufactured, with the most effective tonics, alteratives, regulators and depurators that chemistry has yet extracted from the botanical kingdom. Convalescents, languid and feeble from recent sickness, will find the Bitters an incomparable Restorative, not disagreeble to the taste, and eminently invigorating. No other stimulant produces the same effect as this Stomachic. It does not excite or flutter the nerves, or occasion any undue arterial action, but at once soothes and strengthens the nervous system and the animal spirits.

Hostetter's Bitters

Are sold wholesale and retail at very low rates at Fleming's Drug and Patent Medicine Depot, No. 84 Market street, corner of the Diamond, near Fourth street.

Railways in the United States.

According to the tabular statement published in the American Railroad Journal, the total mileage of completed railroads in the United States on the 1st of January, 1866, was 35,561, with about 16,000 miles additional in progress. The total cost of all the railways in progress is set down at one thousand three hundred and eighty-eight millions of dollars, the average cost of the completed lines being about $30,000 per mile. The average of individual States ranges from $19,159 in North Carolina, to $67,000 in Western Virginia. Pennsylvania stands at the head of railway States, having 3,794 miles completed; the next in order of the leading railway States being Ohio, 3,392; Illinois, 3,161; New York, 2,928; Indiana, 2,196. All the other States fall below 2,000 miles. Five range above 1,000, namely, Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Virginia, Georgia and Tennessee. Adding the second track of the railways, and the total length of the street railway lines, (estimated with street tracks, at 1,650 miles,) the whole length of completed tracks in the United States will be about 50,000 miles.

IMPERIAL CLEMENCY.—The Emperor of Austria, who is winning hearts in Hungary by his frank manner and liberal principles, is expected to make his coronation unusually brilliant and memorable by passing a general act of amnesty, which will allow every political exile to return to Hungary, rehabilitated as to his citizenship, and with the whole of his forfeited property at once restored. It is said that Kossuth's name will head the list. It is to be hoped that this on dit may be correct.—Phil. Press.

OUR HARRISBURG LETTER.

Correspondence of Pittsburgh Gazette.

HARRISBURG, January 15, 1866.

THE GOVERNOR'S RETURN.

The announcement that Governor Curtin will return in a few days, has of course suspended all discussion upon the question of long adjournment, although a recess of a week or two is spoken of.

PROPOSED INCREASE OF SALARIES.

The increase of the salaries of our Executive, Legislative and Judicial officers, which it was believed last year would be ordered by the Legislature, has at last taken such a shape that the advantages of such a pecuniary augmentation will be discussed in a few days. Mr. Bigham has drawn up a bill, of which the following are the principal provisions: The Governor, (after the expiration of the present Governor's term,) to receive $6,000 per annum; and after June 1st, the Attorney General's salary to be $3,600; the Secretary of State's, Auditor General's and Treasurer of State's to be $3,000 each, including their allowance as Commissioners of the Sinking Fund; the Surveyor General's $2,400, and the Superintendent of Common Schools, $2,400; each Senator and Representative to receive $1,000 per annum; the Judges of the Supreme Court each $5,200 including pay and mileage, and the Chief Justice $300 additional; each Judge of the Courts of Common Pleas in Philadelphia and Allegheny $4,400; each President Judge in the Commonwealth $3,200; each Assistant Law Judge required to be learned in the law, $3,600 in full for all pay and mileage, except only the holding of special courts in other judicial districts to remain as heretofore; the Associate Judges in the State not required to be learned in the law, to receive as follows: for those whose attendance at court does not exceed four weeks, $200; between four and six weeks, $240; between six and eight weeks, $300; between eight and ten weeks, $400; between ten and twelve weeks, $450; between twelve and twenty-four weeks, $550; and all exceeding twenty-four weeks, $600.

AN IMPORTANT BILL TO ALLEGHENY.

Mr. Bigham has a bill which he will offer at an early day which will doubtless meet with the approbation of the people of your county. It is of such importance that I have determined to send it to you entire rather than make a synopsis. It is as follows:

AN ACT regulating the granting of licences to Inns, Taverns and Eating Houses and punishing the unlicensed sale of liquors in Allegheny County.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives, of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by authority of the same, that hereafter, instead of existing laws, all applicants for license to sell intoxicating liquors by less measures than one quart by Inns, Taverns and Eating Houses, in Allegheny county, shall appear before the Treasurer of said county between the first Monday of March and the first Monday of April in each year, and make and sign an oath or affirmation of the amount of their respective sales of liquors, and all other refreshments at their respective bars to the best of their knowledge and belief; which oath and affirmation, said Treasurer is authorized to administer and file in his office; and he shall rate and classify each applicant in accordance with existing laws provided, that any applicant applying out of time may have license for a fractional part of the year expiring on the first day of the suceeding April. And provided further; that any applicant for a place not previously licensed, shall be rated for the first year as the Treasurer shall deem just. He shall make out a correct list of all applicants, with their names, places of business, and class and advertise the same once a week for three weeks, in two English and one German newspaper, and for all services under this act he shall charge each applicant three dollars, and for each transfer of license one half that amount.

SEC. 2. Each applicant applying for a license to sell liquors, by any Inn, Tavern or Eating House, shall file with the Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions, a bond in one thousand dollars, with two sureties, to be approved by the District Attorney and certified to the Treasurer, conditioned for the faithful performance of all laws of this Commonwealth relating to the sale of liquors, and warrant of attorney to confess judgment against said obligors; and whenever any fine or forfeiture shall have been recovered against the principal, the District Attorney may enter judgment and collect the amount thereof from said obligors in the bond, the District Attorney's fees for approving each bond, to be one dollar.

SEC. 3. That in addition to the license fee to the Commonwealth, the Treasurer shall require each applicant to pay an equal amount into the County Treasury, to be appropriated under the direction of the Inspectors of the Allegheny county Prison, to the erection and support of a house of employment in said county, and the fees allowed the Treasurer in the first section of this bill, to be in full of all charges by said Treasurer; provided, that no license in the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny shall be less than one hundred dollars; and in the boroughs and townships, less than fifty dollars, one half whereof shall shall go to the State and the other to the county; provided, that the licenses for eating houses shall remain as heretofore.

SEC. 4. The Judges of the Court of Quarter Sessions of said county shall have authority to revoke any license granted by the Treasurer, whenever it shall be proved, to the satisfaction of the said Court, that the party licensed has willfully violated any law of this Commonwealth relating to the sale of liquors, or that the licensed premises have become the resort of idle and disorderly persons, to the disturbance of the neighborhood: the Court may, on its own motion, enter a rule to show cause upon any licensed party, when, during the progress of any trial, in said Courts, it has reason to suspect said house to have become a nuisance to the neighborhood; or said Court may proceed, upon information returned thereto, in the manner heretofore customary for the hearing of surety of the peace cases, and if satisfied of the truth of such charges, in addition to the revocation of the license, may order that no future license shall be granted to said party for twelve months thereafter.

SEC. 5. That in addition to other causes not enumerated, any party holding a license may have said license revoked, and be refused a license for twelve months thereafter, for any of the following causes, to-wit: Selling liquor on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, or selling liquor to any person under twenty-one years of age, or of known intemperate habits; and for any second or subsequent commission of either of the above offences, shall be imprisoned in the county jail for any term not exceeding one year.

SEC. 6. Any person convicted in the Court of Quarter Sessions of said county, of selling liquor without license, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars, at the discretion of the court; and upon any second or subsequent conviction, in addition to the fine, the court may impose imprisonment for any time not exceeding twelve months.

SEC. 7. That, in addition to existing remedies, any person convicted before any Mayor, Burgess, Alderman or Justice of the Peace of said county, of having sold liquor by any less measure than one quart, without having first procured a license therefor, shall pay a fine of ten dollars for each and every measure of liquor so sold, without any appeal to the court, and in case of non-payment of the same, may be committed to the county jail forty-eight hours: Provided, That any informer, not examined as a witness to prove the sale of the liquor, shall be entitled to one-half the penalty.

New Method of Robbery.

We were informed last night, by Mr. Oscar Jenkins, conductor on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad, of a new and horrible method adopted by two men at Wellsville, on Saturday night, to rob an old gentleman, recently from California. Mr. Jenkins did not remember his name; nevertheless, we will give the atrocious circumstances, as they will indicate the extent to which rogues will go for money, and there is no telling how long they may have dogged his steps to accomplish their infamous design.

By the usual method, they succeeded in attracting the gentleman's attention, and finally became so familiar as to offer an apple, which he accepted and ate. In a short time, the strychnine, previously placed in the apple, began to take effect, causing the gentleman to fall in a helpless condition on the pavement, where he was discovered at a late hour, in great agony, robbed of all his money and everything of value about his person. The scoundrels left the town that night, and have not been heard from since.

They gave him an overdose, from the effects of which he will probably recover, as the best medical assistance that could be procured was immediately summoned to the scene.

We should also state that the man is a cripple, having only one leg. The other was crushed by an accident on a boat in California, rendering amputation necessary. It is impossible to conjecture what infernal schemes villains may yet adopt in their nefarious business.—Cleveland Herald, of yesterday.

CLEVELAND is determined to reform its sewerage, and the city engineer, John Whitelaw, has reported an elaborate plan, involving an expenditure of over $70,000, which the Leader states as follows: All the drain of the city south and west of Eagle street finds its way into the river through culverts at the foot of Eagle, Huron, Seneca, Champlain, James, Superior and St. Clair streets. As a necessary consequence, the river is filled with an amount of filth which its current cannot sweep out into the lake. Navigation is impeded, and the Council have been obliged hitherto to make annual appropriations of $10,000 and upward for the dredging of the Cuyahoga. The plan devised by engineer Whitelaw embraces the construction of large catch basins at the feet of the above named streets, to receive the drainings from those streets, and the building of a main sewer which shall wind like a huge anconda from its outlet into the lake, under the union passenger depot. The Leader says there is no doubt the plan will be adopted.

LIVING ENGLISH WRITERS.—From a list of the ages of living English writers, given in Gutch's Literary and Scientific Register for 1866, we select some respecting whom most interest is felt in this country, as—Matthew Arnold, 41; Wilke Collins, 42; John Ruskin, 47; Rev. Charles Kingsley, 47; Captain Mayne Reid, 48; George Henry Lewes, 49; Tom Taylor, 49; William Howard Russell, 50; Anthony Trollope, 51; Charles Reade; 52; Robert Browning, 54; Charles Dickens, 54; Alfred Tennyson, 57; Sir Archibald Alison, 56; William E. Gladstone, 56; Charles Lever, 59; Rev. F. D. Maurice, 61; Sir E. Bulwer Lytton, 61; Benjamin Disraeli, 61; Barry Cornwall, 67; Samuel Lover, 68; Thomas Carlyle, 70; William Howitt, 71; Dean Milman, 75; Charles Knight, 74; John Payne Collier, 77; and the Nestor of the tribe, Lord Brougham, 86. There is no similar enumeration of the ages of literary ladies, as statistics on the subject are very difficult of attainment.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

WASHINGTON, January 16, 1866.

The proceedings of the Senate to-day were wholly without interest. Garrett Davis spoke in his usual strain for three hours to empty benches and galleries.

In the House the District suffrage bill was under consideration, and Representative Julian made an able speech, in which he took the ground that suffrage is a natural right, irrespective of race or color. He also took the ground that the majority of the people resident in the District were now, as they had been during the war, rebels at heart, and that the country had been cheated of many of their necks, and he had no doubt they would be treated as well as they deserve by the extension of franchise to all the negroes in the city.

The House committee on banks and currency, have agreed to report against all memorials asking the repeal of the ten per cent tax on State bank circulations.

The President has sent to the Senate over two thousand nominations for confirmation, being mostly brevet and other military promotions, made last fall and summer. The military committee will take up their consideration at the next meeting.

Senator Howe, of Wisconsin, presented a memorial from a number of business men in St. Louis, Chicago, Milwaukee, Detroit, Cleveland and Cincinnati, setting forth the need of protecting home industry. Mr. Wade, of Ohio, offered a remonstrance to the same end, from the American Home Labor League. Both were referred to the Finance Committee.

In the Western Districts of North Carolina headquarters at Salisbury, there have been over two thousand cases of disputes between whites and blacks settled by the Freedmen's Bureau. Most of these arose from the planters refusing to pay for last season's work. In the same time there have been eighty-six cases of murder and assault, in nearly every case white men being the assaulting parties. There are in that district at present three hundred helpless negroes—mostly women and children,—in great need of clothing.

Mr. Alexander Reed, Revenue agent of the Treasury Department, starts south in the morning, charged with the duty of investigating all matters connected with Internal Revenue in the States of North and South Carolina and Georgia. A thorough reorganizing is in contemplation in this department, and the selection of men who can take the test oath is one of the subjects which will receive special attention.

Senator Marvin, of Florida, who arrived here to-day, had a lengthy interview with the President this evening.

The Board, for the examination of candidates for positions in the regular army, having finished their business, adjourn on Friday next.

The officers of the Internal Revenue, on duty on the Northern frontiers, will be instructed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, to assist Customs officers in their efforts to prevent smuggling.

The auction sale of accumulations, at the dead letter office, which has been for some two weeks or more in progress, has come to a close. More than six thousand packages were gold. The prices at which they were knocked down, ranged from one cent up to, perhaps, fifty dollars averaging possibly a dollar each. The most of the packages consisted of the meanest stuff imaginable in the form of jewelry. Several hundred of poor watches were sold, and some few good ones, all sorts of clothing, from a military boot to a lace collar, good, bad, and indifferent, new and old, made and unmade, for men, women, children, and babies, and every conceivable memento that wives, mothers and sweethearts could pack into the mail for friends in the war, were represented in the collection. The department of patent medicines was especially full, comprising in all two hundred and thirty-five packages, and embracing a specimen of more or less value, of everything in that interesting line of business. Pills, powders, regenerators, invigorators, balsams Tennessee shrubs, for the hair, lily white, hair dye, and antidotes for tobacco a villainous mess enough to destroy a town or kill an army.

It has been ascertained by the recent census of Alexandria, Virginia, that one-fourth of the colored people of that city can read and write.

The owners of a building in which is held a colored school, at Wyattsville, Maryland, notified the teacher of the school, a few days ago, that it would have to be closed, as the laws of Maryland prohibited the education of colored children. The teacher submitted the case to Major General Howard, Commissioner of Refugees, Freedmen, &c., who directed the teacher to continue the school as heretofore.

The General Land Office has transmitted to the Governor of Iowa two indemnity certificates, authorizing that State to locate on public lands a quantity equal to 5,015 acres, as indemnity, on account of that quantity claimed as swamp land, having been sold by the United States in the counties of Muscatine and Iowa.

The muster-out of fifty additional paymasters, which was to have been ordered during the present month, has been postponed, it is said, owing to the reduction of the army not being so rapid as was formerly expected, and the scattered condition of the troops rendering it necessary to retain the present force some time longer.

Among other important matters before the Cabinet to-day, was the subject of cotton speculation at the South. There is positive information in the Government, showing that immense amounts of cotton belonging to it have been stolen, and that some of the thieves are in the civil and military service of the United States.

The receipts from internal revenue to-day amount to $459,398.

Letter From Gen. Sherman on Militia Organization.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—At a meeting of the State Military Association, the following letter was received from General Sherman:

H'D QR'S MIL. DIVISION OF THE MISSISSIPPI, }
ST. LOUIS, January 9th, 1866. }

It is impossible for me to come to Albany on the occasion referred to, but I do heartily approve of the object, and wish you eminent success.

Now is the appointed time if ever in our history, to place the militia of our country on a footing honorable and useful to the nation. Now it can claim all the honors gained by the State Volunteers, with their experience in organization, equipment and drill. I hope you in the State of New York will devise some good system for the militia of the State, and so perfect that other states will follow the example and make it uniform throughout the service.

The militia during peace should be made attractive and honorable, that the organization may be immediately available in war, until Congress has time to provide national troops for the emergency.

Again wishing you all possible success, I am
Your obedient serv't,
(Signed) W. T. SHERMAN,
Major Gen'l.

Order for Prevention of Jeff. Davis' Escape,

FORTRESS MONROE, Jan. 16.—Orders were received yesterday from the War Department, to discharge all employees in the various Government departments in this District, who had been in any way connected with the Rebel Government. In accordance with these instructions the Commanding General summarily dismissed all such, twenty-five in number, giving them short notice to leave the place. The agent of the National Express Company was also sent away, for the above reason.

This order was undoubtedly caused by the rumor that an organization was being formed to rescue Jeff Davis. Armed picket boats are on duty constantly, to examine all vessels arriving in this harbor.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE

General Railroad Law.

EXTENSION OF CONNELLSVILLE R. R.

A New Judicial District.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

HARRISBURG, January 16, 1866.

The Senate and House of Representatives were both in session to-day, and we have the following business to report:

SENATE—In the Senate, Mr. Dunlap reported, with amendments, from the Committee on Corporations, an act entiled "An act to incorporate the Ben Franklin Insurance Company of Allegheny City."

The following bills were read in place:

By Mr. Bigham—An act regulating the granting of licenses to eating houses and taverns, and for the punishment of parties engaged in the unlicensed sale of liquors in Allegheny county.

Mr. White read a further supplement to an act relative to the manufacture of Iron with coke and mineral coal; also an act exempting persons who have been soldiers in the army from the payment of bounty and per capita taxes on the Commonwealth.

Mr. Bigham offered a set of resolutions which were in substance as follows: First, instructing the proper committee to pursue a liberal policy toward the different railroads of the State, and favoring a general railroad law; second, that the construction of a through line indicated in the contract to that effect between the Atlantic and Great Western and Reading Railroad Companies, ought to be encouraged by appropriate legislation; third, that the extension of the Connellsville Railroad eastward, connecting with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, for Baltimore and Washington, is required by the commerce of the country; fourth, in favor of a healthy competition between companies and individuals.

The resolutions were supported by extended remarks from Senators Bigham, Lowry and Clymer, while Senators Hall and Nichols opposed them. The resolutions were postponed for the present.

The Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Shenck reported a bill from the Judiciary Committee to create a new district out of the counties of Washington and Beaver. The bill was read and finally passed.

Mr. Meckling read an act to increase the fees of the Auditors of Armstrong county.

Mr. Negley read an act to regulate the fees of surgeons on coroner's inquests in Mercer county.

Mr. Craig read an act to create an additional Notary Public in Allegheny county.

Mr. Slack, read in place, a bill allowing the School Board of Neville township, Allegheny county, to pay their bounty tax. This bill was finally passed, after which the House adjourned.

Union Men Persecuted in Georgia.

DECISION BY THE INTERNAL REVENUE COMMISSIONER.

Attempt on the Life of Judge Field.

INFERNAL MACHINE SENT FROM CALIFORNIA.

Pardon Seekers Refused.

&c., &c., &c.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The Tribune's Washington special says: A letter has been received from Alexander H. Stevens, stating that the condition and persecutions of Union men in Georgia are at this time vastly worse than during the rebellion.

Two national banks, the First Planters at Richmond, and First National of Grinnell, Iowa, were established yesterday.

Three more invoices of goods, amounting to two thousand five hundred dollars has, just been received from the Birmingham Society, England, for destitute freedmen in this country.

The Tribune's special says the Commissioner of Internal Revenue yesterday decided that authority has been given to imprint the initials and date in ink upon revenue stamps instead of writing them.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Chandler was at Savannah on the 9th inst., investigating affairs connected with the department, and was soon to leave for more southern ports.

Judge Field, of California, received by express on Saturday a small box, with a printed address, which came from San Francisco by the last steamer. Not knowing its purport, he proceeded to open it with the ordinary caution which curiosity inspires, in the presence of Judge Lake, who is also temporarily here. Upon unscrewing and raising the lid about half an inch, Judge Lake caught sight of several little copper wires, and instantly suggested that it was an infernal machine. Further operations were suspended, and the box placed in a tub of water until yesterday, when it was taken to the War Department, where it was opened, and twelve large metallic cartridges, with heavy balls, nicely adjusted with fulminating powder, so as to explode upon the raising of the lid, were found. There was a single line written upon the inside of the lid, as follows: "Last October you decided the Puebla case." The affair has greatly increased the excitement already felt in certain circles here, in consequence of the growing frequency of these belligerent occurrences.

The Herald's Washington dispatch says: Applicants for the New York collectorship still increase. Judge E. P. Cowles, delegate to the Freemont Convention at Cleveland in 1864, has submitted his claims for the place.

The trip southward of Mr. Jevely, 3d Assistant Post Master General, is understood to be mainly for the purpose of correcting irregularities at present complained of in the delivering of Northern newspapers to subscribers of the South. If the evil cannot be corrected postal facilities may be withdrawn altogether.

The Time's Washington dispatch says: Mr. Harlen will not resign his position as Secretary of the Interior until about the 12th of February, 1867. Such is the belief of his confidential friends.

The World's Washington dispatch says the President informed a large number of pardon applicants yesterday, that no more pardons would be granted at present.

Secretary Stanton had a long interview with the President yesterday.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Fox, has returned from a trip to the North.

Secretary Seward is expected back in about two weeks.

The Times dispatch says another Indian delegation from the West arrived in Washington yesterday.

Inaugural of Governor Ward, of New Jersey.

TRENTON, N. J., January 16.—The Inaugural of Governor Ward urges the adoption, by the State, of the Constitutional Amendment prohibiting slavery. The people have, in the election, spoken in its favor, and he knows the Legislature will gladly pass it. He returns thanks to the soldiers, and recommends action for the benefit of those who became disabled in their country's service. He opposes anything like repudiation, and favors the cause of education and the maintenance of the purity of the ballot-box, and economy in the State finances. He expresses full faith in the ability, patriotism and fidelity of President Johnson, and trusts that the Legislature will strengthen and support the Executive and Congress, through whose joint action we shall soon have a reconstructed Union, in which national rights to all men will be fully guaranteed.

United States Marine Corps—Pirate Semmes.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—An examining board of officers of the United States Marine Corps, has just been ordered by the Navy Department to convene at the head quarters in this city, on Wednesday the 17th inst., to decide upon the qualification of candidates for appointment as Second Lieutenants. There are only six vacancies to be filled, and it is known that there are over five hundred applications on file.

Raphael Semmes is held in close confinement at the Marine Barracks, awaiting the action of the government. Semmes is in good health and spirits, and seems confident of being able to justify his own conduct during the rebellion.

Stamp Counterfeiter on Trial.—Tax on State Bank Circulation.

NEW YORK, January 16.—The case of United States against Wm. Fraaker, one of the parties in the alledged counterfeit cegar stamp fraud, came up before United States Commissioner Osborne to-day.

The Post's Washington correspondent says: The Committee on Banking and Currency, met this morning and agreed to report against all petitions asking for repeal of the law imposing a tax of ten per cent on State bank circulation.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—The Steamer American, Nicaragua line, sailed to day with a large number of passengers.

XXXIXth CONGRESS--FIRST SESSION

WASHINGTON, January 16, 1866.

SENATE.

Mr. Chandler called up his resolution offered yesterday, declaring non-intercourse between this country and Great Britain, and withdrawing the Minister at the Court of St. James. The resolution was laid on the table—yeas 25; nays, 12.

Mr. Howard called up his resolution for the trial of Jefferson Davis and Clement C. Clay, which was ordered to be printed.

Mr. Howard, offered a resolution, calling upon the President for a copy of whatever correspondence he may have had with the Judge of the Supreme Court, respecting the holding of Civil Courts in insurrectionary districts, for the trial of offenses against the United States.

The resolution was adopted and Mr. Wilson called up the bill for the establishment of a Military and Naval Asylum, for totally disabled officers and men of the volunteer forces, which was amended on motion of Mr. Grimes, so as to make it apply exclusively to the army, and then passed.

Mr. Chandler gave notice that he would at an early day read the British foreign enlistment act, and move the repeal of all the existing neutrality laws.

Mr. Anthony called up the resolution for the reference of all papers relating to the representation of the States lately in rebellion to the Special Committee on Reconstruction.

Mr. Doolittle moved to amend by inserting the words "except credentials" after the words "all papers."

Pending the discussion on this subject, the unfinished business, of yesterday, which was the bill for the regulation of the rights of suffrage in the District of Columbia was called up.

Mr. Morrill offered an amendment, including among those excepted from the right of suffrage all who voluntarily left the District to give aid and comfort to the rebels.

Mr. Davis took the floor in opposition to the bill.

Mr. Morgan presented a petition of the New York Chamber of Commerce asking for the increase of pay for Naval officers.

Referred to the Committee on Naval Affairs.

Senator Sumner presented a petition from the citizens of the District of Columbia, asking for a repeal of the laws in operation in the district, making a distinction on account of color.

Referred to the Committee on the District of Columbia.

Mr. Wilson from the Military Committee reported a bill to establish and fix the military peace establishment of the United States, which was ordered to be printed.

Mr. Wilson called up the bill in relation to the National Naval and Military Assylum for totally disabled men and officers of the volunteer service, which was amended by Mr. Grimes, so as to make it exclusively for officers and men in the army, striking out the word "navy" wherever it occurred.

The bill then passed.

Mr. Howard called up the final resolution which was offered by him yesterday, recommending the trial of Jeff Davis and Clement C. Clay, before a military commission, on charges mentioned in the report of the Secretary of War, March 4th, 1865.

Mr. Sumner suggested that it be made a concurrent, instead of a joint resolution, and this was accordingly done.

The resolutions were then, on motion of Mr. Howard, ordered to be printed.

Mr. Howard offered a resolution, which was adopted, calling upon the President for any correspondence he may have had with the Judges of the Supreme Court respecting the the holding of civil courts in the insurrectionary districts.

Mr. Anthony, of Rhode Island, moved to take up the resolution offered by him some time since, for reference to a special Committee of Reconstruction of all papers relating to representation of the lately rebellious states.

Mr. Hendrick inquired if the passage of that resolution would send all credentials to that committee.

Mr. Anthony replied that it would not; that it would be unconstitutional.

Pending the discussion on this subject, the morning hour expired, and the unfinished business of yesterday, which was the bill to regulate the relative franchise in the District of Columbia, was taken up.

Mr. Davis, who took the floor in opposition to the bill, spoke at length on its unconstitutionality.

At the conclusion of Mr. Davis' remarks, Mr. Wilson moved to postpone the bill under consideration, and take up the bill to enlarge the power of the Freedmen's Bureau, pending which motion the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

Mr. Conklin, of New York, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That in re-establishing the Federal relationships of the communities lately in rebellion, so as to permit them again to participate in administering the General Government, the following are necessary and proper requirements on the part of New York, and ought to be secured by such measures as will render them as far as possible inevitable:

First—The absolute renunciation of all the evasions of secession as a doctrine and as a practice.

Second—Repudiation, both by the State and by the National Government, of all public debts and obligations, includin State and municipal liabilities contracted for or in aid of the late rebellion, and including, also, all claims for or on behalf of those who were in the military or naval service of the insurgents, for bounty, pay or pensions, and all claims by persons not loyal to the United States, for damages or losses suffered by reason of the rebellion, and for advances made in its aid.

Third—Assurance of human rights to all within their borders, regardless of race, creed or color, or the adoption of such provisions against barbarism, disorder and oppression as will relieve the General Government from the necessity of standing guard over any portion of our country to protect the people from despotism, violence and outrage.

Fourth—Impartial distribution of political power among all persons of the country, so that four millions of people shall no longer be presented in the interest of aggrandizement, and at the same time be excluded from political privileges and rights.

Fifth—The election of Senators and Representatives, in truth loyal to the United States, and never rebel leaders in the late revolt, nor guilty of the dastardly boasting which preceded the war of atrocities.

Mr. Raymond, of New York, inquired whether it was the intention of his colleague that the resolution should go to the Committee on Reconstruction to operate as instructions.

Mr. Conklin replied that he had offered them as other resolutions, for reference. He had offered them on his own responsibility. They were a mere declaration of his own views.

Objection was made and the bill lies over.

Mr. Boutwell, of Massachusetts, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported the amendment to the bill to incorporate the New York Mutual Protective Homestead Company. One of the amendments proposed to omit the name of Joshua Hill, of Georgia, and several other Southerners, as corporators, and substitute others from the Northern States.

He explained that the bill proposed to incorporate a land company, with a capital of two million dollars, for the purpose of encouraging emigration to and settlement in the States lately in rebellion. It was to encourage the black as well as the white, and introduced the policy to break up the immense bodies of land in that section, and distribute them among a large number of holders. The names of several of the corporators were left out because the Committee was not satisfied of their loyalty. Mr. Ingersol offered an amendment, that said corporation shall provide for the landless poor without distinction of color, who may apply for homesteads of not less than one hundred and fifty acres of land free of charge.

After debate the further consideration of the bill was postponed and the bill and amendments ordered to be printed.

On motion of Mr. Stevens, of Penna., the House took from the Speaker's table the joint resolution of the Senate authorizing the Committe on Reconstruction to send for persons and papers.

Mr. Brooks inquired of Mr. Stevens how long it would be before the House had a report from that Committee.

Mr. Stevens replied he could not possibly give the information, as the proceedings of the Committee were secret.

Mr. Brooks said the gentleman might give his private opinion as to how long a large portion of the people would be deprived of representation. This would be interesting to those who are now paying taxes without representation.

Mr. Stevens replied that the South had taxed us long enough.

The House then concurred in the resolution of the Senate, by a vote of 128 against 35.

Mr. Dawes, of Mass., introduced a bill to amend an act "to provide duties on imports, which makes provision for an amendment, prescribing that no suit or prosecution for any cause therein mentioned, commenced in account of any State against any persons other than an officer of the United States, or other person acting in the subject matter of said suit, or of prohibition under such matter in discharge of his official duties, shall be removed to the Circuit Courts of the United States in said section provided."

The second section provides that any suit so removed under authority of that section, and now pending in any circuit court of the United States shall by order of said circuit court be forthwith handed to the state court to which the same has been removed, there to be disposed of as it would have been if the removal had not taken place, and said removal shall in no way effect the validity of any proceedings in said court prior to its removal to the civil courts.

The House resumed the consideration of the bill to extend suffrage in the District of Columbia.

Mr Julian, of Indiana, demanded suffrage for the colored man on the broad ground of national right, and repudiated suffrage as a mere conventional form; without suffrage no man is free. The great want of every poor man was a home, and the ballot and homestead should go together. There were fifty million acres of unsold lands in the South which unless prevented will be open to rebel speculators. These lands should be set apart for homesteads for both white and black loyal men. If the bill heretofore introduced by him and now before the House, on public lands, should become a law, every freedman could become a freeholder. It had been objected that all negroes were too ignorant to vote, he would reply that they were not all ignorant. Many of them were educated. A large portion of them would not suffer by comparison with many white men, who instigate mobs against an unoffending people and publish their deeds as negro insurrections, and yet nothing was done to disfranchise them. He would give the negro the ballot, to maintain the liberty already secured. If the military were withheld from the black man, the most disastrous consequences might result. The conferring of suffrage, therefore, was a means of safety. If the whites in this district, who sympathized with the rebellion, vote, it would be mean to withhold the ballot from loyal negroes.

Mr. Randall, of Pennsylvania, replied to the remarks recently made by his colleague, Mr. Kelley, with refference to the suffrage in Pennsylvania. He was glad to say the democrats have been against extending the right of suffrage to the negro race, and in this the democratic party had the aid of vast numbers of those who were publicly opposed to them. His colleague proposed to make an issue here that he had failed to make at home.

Mr. Kelley said when he was quite a young man and acting with the democratic party, he united in a petition to the Legislature to change the constitution so that every man in Pennsylvania, not a pauper or felon, should be a citizen in full.

After further debate, Mr. Randall asked his colleague whether he would, by changing the Constitution of the United States, or amending the Constitution of Pennsylvania, strike out the word "white" as a qualification of voters.

Mr. Kelly said he would, having regard for Franklin and others who laid the foundation of the government.

Mr. Randall resumed his remarks, saying he should uniformly vote in accordance with the action of his State, without regard to party. He believed the two races are distinct, and believing that, he was unwilling to take any step which would place the negro on an equality with the white man.

After some further debate, without action, the House adjourned.

Message of Governor Fenton in Relation to Charges Against New York Municipal Officers.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—In the Assembly Geo. S. Harting, Private Secretary of the Governor, presented the following message from His Excellency Governor Fenton:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, }
STATE OF NEW YORK, }
ALBANY, Jan. 16, 1866. }

To the Assembly:—Since your last session the charges against certain officers of the municipality of New York have been presented to me for my action as the Executive, under the provision of section 2d, chapter 446, laws of 1857, and section 1, chapter 68, laws of 1863.

I entered upon the discharge of the duties imposed upon me by the provisions of said acts with the free conviction that while no public officer should be irresponsible or free from all proper checks against excess of authority, neither should the penalty of the law be enforced except upon clear and well established proof of malversation in office. Fully impressed with these considerations, and a sense of the magnitude and delicacy of the trust, I have proceeded with the investigation of such charges.

In the progress of such examination I find that the proper determination of the question presented will require the examination of voluminous documentary testimony, and a large number of witnesses, which will occupy more time than I am able, in the proper discharge of my official duties to bestow. I have not availed myself of the authority given me by law to direct the District Attorney of the city and county of New York to conduct the inquiry into the truth of the charges made, as the discharge of the necessary duties devolving upon that officer must absorb his entire time and attention.

I therefore respectfully submit the subject for your consideration, to the end, if it meets with your approbation, that in the cases now before me, and in all cases arising under the provisions of the act referred to, authority may be conferred upon the Executive to appoint one or more commissioners, who shall, under his direction, conduct the inquiry into the truth of the charges made, with such power to take testimony and enforce the attendance of witnesses as may be necessary, or the enactment of such amendments to the existing law as their wisdom and experience may devise. (Signed) R. E. FENTON.

PROPOSALS.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE LIGHT-HOUSE BOARD, }
WASHINGTON CITY, January 6, 1866. }

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at this office until 1 o'clock P. M., on FRIDAY, the 9th day of February, 1866, for supplying the Light-House Establishment with sixty thousand gallons of the best quality pure winter-strained Oil, either Lard or Sperm, to be divided into four lots, and to be delivered at the times undermentioned, alongside of the Government supply-vessels, or at the warehouse or other place of deposit, to be designated by the Inspecting Officer or other authorized agent of the Light-house Board, in strong, tight, iron-bound, well-made casks, suitable for shipping, in good order, of a capacity, each, of from fifty to eighty gallons—not to exceed the latter. The oil may be delivered at Boston or New York, at the option of the bidders.

The place of delivery in each case must be distinctly stated in the bids, and will be embraced in the contracts.

The four lots will be delivered as follows, viz:

Lot No. 1. Fifteen thousand (15,000) gallons oil on the 2d day of April, 1866, or as soon thereafter as the proper tests and gauging can be completed.

Lot No. 2. Fifteen thousand (15,000) gallons oil on the 16th day of April, 1866, or as soon thereafter as the proper tests and gauging can be completed.

Lot No. 3. Fifteen thousand (15,000) gallons oil on the 1st day of June, 1866, or as soon thereafter as the proper tests and gauging can be completed.

Lot No. 4. Fifteen thousand (15,000) gallons oil on the 1st day of August, 1866, or as soon thereafter as the proper tests and gauging can be completed.

Separate proposals will be received at the same time for 5,000 gallons of Colza or Lard Oil, to be delivered as above stipulated, at Detroit, Mich., on the 1st day of May, 1866.

No bid will be considered unless from a manufacturer of the article.

No part of the oil proposed for and to be embraced in the contracts under this advertisement will be accepted, received, or paid for, until it shall have been proved, to the entire satisfaction of the person or persons charged with its examination, test, and inspection, to be of the best quality pure winter-strained oil, and free from mixture with other or inferior oils and adulterations.

The usual means for determining the character and quality of the sperm oil will be employed, viz: specific gravity, burning, the amount of residuum, and any other proper tests to arrive at correct conclusions that may be deemed necessary.

The lard oil will be subjected to special tests, and will be rejected unless found to be, in regard to burning and fluidity under reduction of temperature, and in every other respect, equal to that of the standard adopted by the Board, of which a sample will be furnished on application to the Light-house Engineer at Boston, Mass.

The casks must be gauged under the direction and personal supervision of the inspecting officer, by a custom-house or other legally authorized and sworn gauger, according to the United States standard, and must be marked and accepted before they are removed from the cellar or warehouse of the contractor. The temperature of the oil will be accurately noted, and the measurements reduced to the standard temperature of 60 deg. Fahrenheit by tables prepared for the purpose.

Proposals will be received and considered for each lot separately, or for all of the lots, at the option of the bidder; but no bid will be considered for a less quantity than that specified as one lot, to be delivered at one time and place. Each bid must state explicitly, written out in full, the kind of oil offered, (whether sperm, lard or colza;) the rate per gallon, the number of the lot or lots bid for, and the place of delivery, conforming to this advertisement.

Bids submitted by different members of the same firm or copartnership will not be considered.

The Light-house Board, under the authority of the Department, reserves the right to reject any bid, although it may be the lowest, for other considerations than the price.

No bid will be considered for any other kind or description of oil than those specially called for in this advertisement.

A bond, with security to the satisfaction of the Department, in a penalty equal to one-fourth of the amount of each contract made under these proposals, will be required of each contractor, conditioned for the faithful performance of the contract, to be executed within ten days after the acceptance of the bid.

Each offer must be accompanied by a written guarantee, signed by one or more responsible persons, and known to the department as such, or certified by a United States district judge, attorney, navy agent, or collector of the customs, to the effect that, if the bid be accepted, the bidder will duly execute a contract in good faith, according to the provisions and terms of this advertisement, within ten days after acceptance; and that in case the said party offering shall fail to enter into the contract as aforesaid, he or they guarantee to make good the difference between the offer of the said party and the next lowest bidder. All bids must be sealed and endorsed "Proposals for Oil for Light-houses," and then placed in another envelope, and directed, prepaid, to the Secretary of the Light-house Board, Washington City.

All bids will be opened publicly, at the hour and on the day specified.

Payments will be made for the several lots of oil within thirty days after they shall have been received by the United States.

By order of the Light-house Board.

ANDREW A. HARWOOD,
Secretary.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

Notice is hereby given that hereafter all TRANSIENT advertisements received at this office must be paid for when handed in, except in the case of yearly advertisers, whose bills will be rendered quarterly, as usual. Advertisers will please make a note of this, as the rule of cash payments for advertisements of the character stated, will be inflexibly enforced.

The price of our Morning and Evening editions is THREE CENTS at the counter or from newsboys. Served by carriers at FIFTEEN CENTS per week.

THE members of the Allegheny Councils are entitled to our most hearty thanks for the almost unanimous vote given to the Gazette in the caucus held last night. Taken in connection with a similar vote given us in the Pittsburgh Councils, we cannot but feel extremely grateful for the endorsement given us by our political friends.

THE COUNTY CONVENTION.

The Republican County Convention, held to-day, elected delegates to the State Convention instructed in favor of our townsman, Gen. J. K. MOORHEAD, for Governor. The resolutions have the genuine ring, and show decisively where the Republicans of Allegheny stand on the great question of Reconstruction. There is nothing "conservative" about them.

AN EXAMPLE.

When the British took possession of India, it was a prosperous country. As Mr. CAMPBELL phrased it, "under the native princes, India was a paying country." There was combined action on the part of the people for supplying their mutual wants.

From the commencement of British rule a policy has been pursued having for its object the destruction of manufactures in the peninsula. This policy has been successful.

Mr. MCCULLOCH in his Commercial Dictionary says, "notwithstanding the extreme cheapness of labor in India, and the excellence to which the natives had long attained, the wonderful genius of British machinists, and the admirable skill of British workmen, and the immensity of British capital, have far more than countervailed the apparently insuperable drawback of highways, and have enabled British manufactures to bear down all opposition, and to triumph over the cheaper labor, contiguous material, and the traditional art of India." In other words the British have certain advantages for manufacturing greatly superior on the whole to the advantages possessed by the Indians. Having the power in its hands, the British government establishes free trade between those distant provinces and the mother country. The result was precisely as foreseen; the Indian manufactures were prostrated. Even with the aid of cheaper labor and nearness to material and market, they could not compete with the improved machinery and larger capital of Britain.

But, insists the free trader, India found its compensations in cheaper fabrics and higher prices for raw material. That, to be sure, is the theory; and if it holds true in practice free trade is not the worst thing in the world. What are the actual results?

That the whole people, men, women and children, are compelled to accept work in the field, producing commodities to be exported in their rudest state. The internal commerce of the country steadily declines, while the external commerce does not amount to fifty cents per head.

But this is not the worst view of the picture. Says CHAPMAN, in his book on Cotton and Commerce of India, "Vast heaps of humanity, festering in compulsory idleness, encumber the soil of India." And this is the inevitable result where the workshops are closed throughout any country. Wages, that were low before have become lower still. One reason is the redundancy of labor thrown upon a few pursuits. The other is the established fact that when a particular article has to be transported from the place of production to market, the wages of the producer diminish in proportion to the distance the article is transported. In other words, the producer has to pay the cost of getting to market.

This is precisely what the British manufacturers and government mean everywhere where they talk of free trade. They mean a system for the interchange of commodities which gives them the opportunity to weaken and break up the habit of associated labor essential to successful manufactures on the part of their rivals, to force other people back upon the ruder and least remunerating branches of industry, to sink them into comparative poverty, and to bind them in a commercial vassalage from which there is no escape.

Just now the British manufacturers are displeased with the prosperity and extension of many corresponding branches of industry in this country. Through their factors and agents they are preparing to operate in Congress with a view to securing such a reduction of the impost duties as will check this development. It does look as if they would succeed. The manufacturing interest has become formidable; so much capital is embarked in it; so large a share of the population derive their subsistence, their competency, and their respectability therefrom; and so great are the reciprocal benefits accruing to all other callings; that members of Congress, are not, in general, inclined to put it in peril. The nation begins to feel that through manufactures is the way to boundless prosperity and to commercial supremacy abroad.

GEN. GRANT, it seems, is opposed to withdrawing the troops from the Southern States; notwithstanding which the troops are being steadily withdrawn.

A few weeks since, the lightest word of Gen. GRANT was regarded as authoritative and conclusive, by certain presses and politicians, and no man was allowed to question his ipse dixit. How is it now? If he was such unquestionable authority upon another subject, why is he not on this, especially as, upon this question he is, of all men, the best qualified to judge? Why do those who would cram him down our throats less than a month since, as an infallible witness, set him aside now, as a nobody, and disregard his testimony upon a military question, of which, from his position, he is the only fit judge?

RESOLUTIONS have been introduced into the Kentucky legislature declaring that while that State reserves to herself the right to complain of the constitutional amendment abolishing slavery "she will submit to it without revolt." That assurance removes a load of apprehension from our hearts. We had feared that that great State would refuse to submit, and that the country would consequently be compelled to forego the benefits anticipated from that amendment; but being now assured that she will not revolt, the world can go on having diurnal revolutions and come as many divers games of that sort as it likes. Oh! how thankful we are to know that Kentucky will not revolt!

TEMPEST IN A TEAPOT.—The National Intelligencer threatens an insurrection in the District of Columbia if the negro suffrage bill is passed by Congress. It says:

> "When a people declare by a vote against negro suffrage, that they are not disposed to admit this race, at this time, to such franchise, then any attempt of oligarchy or despotism to violate this will, is simply such oppression as appeals for revolutionary redress if all legal forms of relief and protection fail."

If the people of the District do not rally to the support of exclusive white suffrage with any more vigor than they did to the support of the nation in the hour of its peril, it will not take more than one regiment of colored troops to put down the threatened rebellion.

INCREASE OF THE STANDING ARMY.

Two facts stand in apparent antagonism. While one class call for the withdrawal of the military force from the Southern States and the rapid disbandment of all the volunteer regiments, under the plea that this is a government of opinion, another class insist on a considerable augmentation of the regular army as indispensable, and this under the plea that force is requisite to hold opinion in due subordination. A bill for such increase is actually before Congress. And yet this antagonism, when the essence of the matter is reached, is more in appearance than reality.

All governments are based on opinion and force. At bottom, there is not much difference in the admixture of these two elements in different governments. One nation takes the autocratic form and another the democratic, because of the difference of opinion existing between them, and what Opinion demands Force maintains.

In the Southern States, Opinion, among the voting and ruling classes, has been steadily growing adverse to republican principles and forms for a period of thirty years at least. But for the intervention of Force from other portions of the Union, and in which a different Opinion prevailed Opinion would have accomplished a revolution in the South, without creating the necessity for a blow.

That Opinion exists there entirely unchanged. Withdraw the pressure of Force existing in the Federal armies; extirpate the terror of Force which those armies have inspired; and abrogate all probability of the return of those armies in case of renewed resistance, and Opinion will take the Southern States out of the Union once more in a month.

Force is necessary to hold the people of the South to subordination under the government, and to protect the newly acquired rights of the emancipated bondmen. It is requisite that a certain amount of Force be present in those States. A diversity of judgment exists as to the exact amount required. But there is almost unanimous concurrence in the belief that some is indispensable. That reserve of Force which is known to exist in the nation will do the rest. It is not necessary that a power should actually be on the spot to be felt and heeded.

Gen. Grant thinks a large increase of the regular army desirable. Some Statesmen concur in that opinion. But certain facts ought to be considered. Before the war it was found impossible to keep a few regiments up to the mark of effective strength. Men could do better than go into the army. It was thought when the rebellion collapsed that no trouble would be experienced in filling the old regiments and those created during the war, from among the disbanded volunteers. The love of military adventure has generally been satiated. The regiments of the regular army are not full; and what is more, they can not be filled. Young men are weary of the camp and all that pertains to military life. The great majority who went into the service did so from patriotic impulses. They feel that they have discharged their duty and accomplished their mission. In the army no hopes invite, no ambition allures. In ordinary employments wages are high, and the prospects of competency, if not of wealth, most encouraging. Hence, instead of more men wanting to get into the army, the men who are in want to get out. The feeling against remaining in the service is so prevalent and intense that discipline is relaxed. Many of the regiments are little better than armed mobs.

What, then, will be the effect of authorizing new regiments? Certainly, not to increase the effective numbers of the army; but to lengthen the list of officers and to increase the burden of taxation. This is all that can come of more regiments. All the men who can be enlisted will not fill the regiments now existing. The present array of regulars, with such colored regiments as can be retained for fort duty, are sufficient for every purpose that can be subserved by the creation of additional staffs of officers with few or no men under them. The tax-payers and the government creditors are alike interested to resist the increase of the number of regular regiments.

ADHERING TO THEIR OLD FRIENDS.—The Mining Journal, a large and able English sheet, London, Dec. 16, says:

> "The formal constitution of a Free-trade League in the United States is a very hopeful sign. It is hard for dwellers in another land to judge of the prospects of such an organization, but it has clearly many things in its favor. The representatives from the South are almost sure to vote for it, and it will be strange if the West does not. Should these anticipations prove true, we may expect a very large trade with that country."

It is from the South that England expects the votes that shall carry out her anti-American policy, and the Free Trade League, to effect the same purpose, is willing to grant complete restoration to the South. These three and their willing cooperators of the democratic party, form the quadruple alliance which is already pressing its measures in Congress, and which will require prompt, firm and vigilant action on the part of the friends of protection, whether in that body or not, to defeat. So far the advocates of free trade have shown themselves to be more active and better organized than their opponents; and it is certain that they have more of the sinews of war at their command.

WE publish, to-day, the comments of the London Daily News upon the diplomatic correspondence relative to the Shenandoah claims. The Times had a similar article, and this extract from the News we take as a fair exhibit of the opinion of the London press. It will be seen that, although the correspondence is regarded as closed, the English papers are by no means satisfied with the position of their government. They have the shrewdness to see that the ground taken by Earl Russell and the Earl of Clarendon will justify any other nation in following British example the moment Great Britain is again involved in war; and that, in such an event, the entire commerce of England can be swept from the seas, and its destruction be justified by the arguments set forth by Great Britain in this correspondence.

UNTOMBED DEMI-GODS.—A Southern poet has found a new name for the young Southern chivalry. Hear him:

"You may talk of peace with the Yankee,
For Heaven hath mercy and rods;
But not where slumbers our young chivalry,
The untomb'd demi-gods!"

If the demi-gods are untombed for want of money to bury them, a small contribution can soon be raised to put them underground. There cannot be many of them; and perhaps an appeal to Jove, and the other gods might be successful in getting them decent sepulture. The dwellers on Olympus should be ashamed to let their offspring lie thus uncoffined.

THE CALAMITY OF THE SOUTH.—The Washington correspondent of the Richmond Republic is grieved to see the South championed by the Northern Copperheads. He says:

> "Long predicted that a mischief would be done the South in keeping her representatives out of Congress, inasmuch as it would enable the Democrats to become her champions. This evil has come about precisely as a feared. The two men in the North who, of all others, most damage a cause by their advocacy of it, are Daniel W. Voorhees, of Indiana, and Andrew J. Rogers, of New Jersey; and yet in the few days that have elapsed since Congress has re-assembled, both of these gentlemen have championed the South."

THE New York Tribune lately ventured the opinion that St. Louis, in 1900, would be the great city of the West. The year 1900 is a good way off, and there is abundant time between this and then for that city to make herself worthy of the distinction prophetically awarded her; but so long as she permits steamboats to be crushed to pieces by the dozen, annually, at her wharf, without taking any steps to protect them from such casualties, so long she will postpone the day of her coming greatness.

GENERAL NEWS.

THE House Special Committee on the Bankrupt Law, voted on Saturday to report the bill agreed upon, which is substantially that passed in the House last year, with the two Senate amendments, and a few unimportant changes. Another amendment, providing that no bankrupt should be discharged unless by consent of a majority of the creditors in number and value, unless he pays fifty cents on the dollar, was adopted prospectively, to go into effect one year after date. The bill, as it will be reported, meets the approval of the leading merchants of New York, including some who have heretofore been opposed to a bankrupt law.

THE Stark County (O.) Republican says: On Tuesday, as the 12:30 train approached the depot, Mr. David Kreichbaum, accompanied by his gray haired father, drove their team on the track immediately in front of the engine. The engine struck the horses, carried team and wagon a considerable distance, throwing both men out. The young man fell with his neck directly on the track and head under the cars. The wheels passed over his neck, tearing it almost entirely off the body, and of course causing instant death. The old man, though somewhat hurt by his fall, was not serious injured.

THE Genessee, Illinois, Republic says a boy by the name of White, aged about seven years, living in that city, was accidentally shot and killed by his little brother, on Wednesday. The boys were playing with a gun in the garret of the house, when by some means it was discharged, the contents entering the body of the little boy, and killing him almost instantly.

THE WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENT, of the Boston Traveller, who is usually well informed, declares that the President has not only not used his patronage to put his own schemes through Congress, but solemnly asserts that he does not intend to do anything of the kind.

A STEPMOTHER in Marengo, N. Y., lately crowned a long series of shocking abuses perpetrated upon a boy six years old, by locking him in the house and absenting herself for three days. When she returned with her husband, the boy was dead. The neighbors went in and found the little creature lying on his heap of rags, nearly naked and frozen quite stiff.

IT will deeply pain the many friends of Governor Morton, of Indiana, to learn that a letter has just been received from him, written just as he arrived at Queenstown, in which he writes that his voyage was a positive injury. He says: "I have eaten but one meal since I went aboard the steamer, and that was the evening I left. My limbs are very weak, much weaker than when I started."

THE Cincinnati street railroad companies in the effort to enhance their gains, have not only cut off deadheads, including the press and their own officers, but actually require their conductors, whom they pay but $9 a week, to pay their own fare when they ride home after going off duty, and still they expect conductors to be honest.

THE wolves and panthers have multiplied to such an extent in "John Brown's tract," in New York, that they not only trail the deer in packs, but even have the audacity to "put in an occasional appearance" in barnyards on the border. Hunters return from the woods with doleful faces and no game, except perhaps a mangled carcass or two of venison abandoned by the wolves.

FROM the annual account of the whale fishery published in the New Bedford Standard we learn that the profits were large last year, notwithstanding the piratical depredations of the rebels, and that the fleet will be increased this summer.

AN EXPENSIVE RAILWAY.—The London Metropolitan (underground) Railway is 3¾ miles long, and cost over £442,945—more than two and a quarter million dollars—per mile. Even at that enormous cost, it pays a dividend of seven per cent.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Detroit Free Press, writing from Three Rivers, Michigan, states that the amount realized from the sale of the oil of peppermint made in that village last year is nearly $60,000, the yield being about thirty thousand pounds.

THE fortune left by King Leopold is estimated at fifteen millions of dollars. The will is dated 1857. M. Van Praet, Grand Chamberlain and intimate friend of the King, was appointed by him executor of several of its testamentary provisions.

SIX years ago, a lady in Norwich, Conn., planted three peach-stones in a box. Only one of them came up, but now from the three branches of the tree she has gathered three varieties of peaches.

IT is now ascertained beyond a doubt that three-fourths of the money sent by the friends of the Union soldiers who were captives in rebel prisons was stolen by the keepers thereof.

THE Mahoning (O.) Courier says: Hon. David Tod, Wm. Richards, and others, contemplate the erection of a new rolling mill and blast furnaces at Girard, Trumbull county, during the ensuing summer months.

THE Carbondale New Era notices a cotton gin improvement in operation in that place which does away with the lint room entirely. When properly attached it will gin eight bales of cotton in twelve hours.

IN thirteen years the Public Library in Boston has risen from a collection of a few thousand volumes to above 120,000, and from a circulation of about 7,000 a year to above 100,000.

A STATE Convention is to be held in Frankfort, Kentucky, to discuss the labor question. More practice and less discussion of labor, is what Kentucky most needs at this time.

NEWPORT, across the river from Cincinnati, has suffered from twenty-six robberies during the past week, and to-night a large special police force was put on duty to try and catch the villains.

JOHN C. BRECKENRIDGE's friends in Kentucky hope to return him to the United States Senate, in place of Garret Davis.

GEN. HUNTER has been rendered unable to move hand or foot by paralysis.

STATE NEWS.

THE Miners' Journal, of Saturday last, says that "the curse of Schuylkill county, is miserable, inefficient officials, who are afraid to, or do not know how to discharge their duties. In either case they are utterly unfit for their positions. The fact is, that we must turn from the imbeciles here to the State for protection from the bands of secret assassins that infest the county. If we do not, it will soon be a question whether a man's life will be safe on his own threshhold. Mr. Muir's was not, for he was killed in broad daylight, within fifty yards of the door of his own dwelling, and the murderers—in consequence of the efficiency of the secret oath-bound organization that exists in this county—remain to this day undetected." Public meetings have been called by the people in that county, to provide means for their defence.

THE Selinsgrove Post says that about six o'clock, on the evening of the 8th inst., Mrs. Peter Eby, of Washington township, Snyder county, while sitting in the bar room in company with a small boy, was shot dead almost instantly, through the window. Her husband was but a short distance from the house when the shot was fired, but did not observe any one leaving the premises. Who the murderer is, or what the foul object was, is not yet known. This is the first murder that has been committed in Snyder county.

DURING the year 1865, the receipts of the Girard estate at Philadelphia were $248,134.

THE work on the extension of the Lykens Valley railroad will be completed by the 1st or at the latest by the middle of February.

A NEW daily paper is about to be started in Philadelphia.

The Diplomatic Correspondence Between Mr. Adams and Lord Clarendon.

(From the London Daily News, Dec. 26.)

To many it will surely be a considerable relief that the correspondence between the British and American Governments with respect to the damage inflicted by Confederate cruisers, has at last been brought to a close. The subject has now been completely exhausted, and the only possible effect of prolonging the argument would be "to introduce acrimony into the relations" between the two countries. It would serve no useful purpose to state the pleadings on either side. The misfortune is, that no tribunal should exist before which the pleadings could be laid, and which should have authority to pronounce a final decision. It is vain to hope that the Americans will forego the claims which they have put forward; and, according to Lord Russell and his successor, there is as little prospect that the English Government will abandon the position which it has now assumed. But time works wonders. Already our cotemporary the Times looks forward to a time when a joint commission, perhaps not limited to England and America, shall be appointed to recast the whole chapter of international law which treats of neutral rights and duties. Other journals are disposed to adopt the same tone. And, indeed, there are unmistakable signs that the day must soon arrive when nations will be compelled to submit their disputes to some international tribunal before they will consider themselves justified in enforcing this right by force of arms.

In the meantime it may be useful to state once more the principles of international law which Lord Russell and Lord Clarendon have laid down, and the consequences that must follow from them. Lord Clarendon distinctly asserts that "the British Government have steadily and honestly discharged all the duties incumbent on them as a neutral power, and have never deviated from the obligations imposed upon them by international law." It is also admitted, not only by the American but also by the British Minister, that the existing laws on the British Statute-book are utterly ineffectual to stop the dispatch of such ships as the Alabama, the Shenandoah, and other cruisers of the like sort. But it is further maintained by the British Minister, that although the American statute law contains more stringent provisions than our own, these provisions are equally inefficient to stop such expeditions. It is maintained, moreover, by the British Minister, that although the inefficiency of these statutes has been demonstrated by the experience of the last four years, and although the result of the present state of the law has been that American commerce has been swept from the seas by the Alabama and her consorts, the British Government was under no obligation to improve her statute or municipal law by rendering its provisions more stringent, and that by neglecting to do so this country incurred no liability. It may be presumed that in the opinion of the British Minister no propositions less extensive than these would suffice to cover the position of the British Government. Nevertheless they are startling propositions; and it is but too obvious that if this country were now at war they would lead to startling consequences. For what have we done? We have taught the American and every foreign government that the measure of a neutral's duty toward a belligerent is the British Foreign Enlistment Act; that having this Act on our statute-book we are not called upon as a neutral to do anything more; that a statute which has been found utterly powerless to prevent the destruction of American commerce during the late civil war is the only kind of statute which any nation can be called upon to pass or to enforce; that all the additional securities which were supposed to be contained in the American statute-book are useless, and that in case of war their provisions might be repealed or left unenforced, without exposing the American Government to the charge of neglecting their duties as neutrals. If such are the principles which are to be applied to the people of this country when they are next engaged in war, it is not difficult to anticipate the fate of the British mercantile navy. Its destruction by cruisers obtained from American ports must be speedy and complete, and neither the American Government, nor any other Government will be considered responsible. In short, no new law need be passed, and those already in existence are admitted to be absolutely useless. Such is the conclusion which follows from the justification of their conduct put forward by the British Government.

But let us hope that there are some men in Parliament who will discern the character of this argument. The common sense of the nation cannot be so hood-winked. War must be admitted to be always possible, and to leave questions of such gravity unsolved, would be to expose our interests to too serious a risk. If the argument were worth anything—if the statutes of England and America are so utterly useless—it ought to prove that some change in the laws of both countries was imperatively needed. And it seems that Lord Russell, feeling this, actually suggested to the American Government the propriety of making some change. It is, however, idle to make any such suggestion before some mode of settling the existing disputes upon this very subject, has been agreed to. Indeed, according to Mr. Adams, this was the very suggestion which the American Government pressed upon the attention of the British Government at the commencement of the civil war. It is the same suggestion which was then rejected by the British Cabinet. "If," says Mr. Adams, "the reasons for it are sound now, I am at a loss to see why they did not avail during a period when my country could have felt the benefit of them." To adopt the suggestion now would be to proceed upon the assumption that the duties of neutrality had changed their character since the conclusion of the war. This is obviously absurd. If the municipal law enforcing these duties ought to be made more stringent now, it ought to have been made more stringent before the war closed, and the government which declined to take this course must be responsible for whatever damage has resulted from its neglect. In other words the question, what are the duties of a neutral? must precede the question, ought the statute enforcing them to be altered? Means should therefore be taken to ascertain whether during the American civil war England performed her duty. This can only be done by referring the matter in dispute to a commission; and now that Lord Russell and his successor have refused to refer the matter, it can only be done by the intervention of Parliament.

France in Mexico.

The London Times is doing an extremely sensible and commendable thing in trying to prove to Louis Napoleon the necessity of withdrawing his troops from Mexico. It informs him that the "shock of a war with the United States might prove a serious trial both to France, herself, and to her institutions"—by her "institutions" being meant, of course, Louis Napoleon and the Prince Imperial. It tells him that it is the "interest of France to withdraw as soon as possible from a perilous position," and it smoothes his pathway by saying that "every probability indicates that he will peaceably withdraw sooner or later"—giving him some excellent reasons why it should be sooner rather than later. At the same time, the Times undertakes to give the United States some advice on the same subject. It says we should not adopt a "bullying tone" toward France, as the Emperor could not consent to retire from Mexico under a threat, nor, if he were disposed to do so, would the French people allow him." Now, we would on no account "bully" the Emperor, but we politely continue our requests that he "vamoose the ranche," as they say in California, as soon as possible.—N. Y. Times.

The Methodist Episcopal Church is making rapid progress in the former Slave States. In Louisiana and Texas, more than 20,000 colored Methodists have broken off their connection with the Southern Methodist Church and joined the Northern Church. Bishop Thomson organized in December, at New Orleans, the Mississippi Annual Conference of the M. E. Church, which already numbers seventeen preachers and over 22,000 members. A "Biblical Institute" has been opened in New Orleans and a new Church organ, The New Orleans Advocate, has been started by the Rev. Dr. J. P. Newman.

In Kentucky, 25 ministers of the Southern Methodist Church, with about 5,000 of the white members, have declared their intention of joining the Northern Church. The colored congregations either have already taken the same step or intend soon to take it.

In Georgia the Rev. Mr. Cadwell, a member of the Georgia Annual Conference, to whose sermons on slavery we referred some weeks ago in The Tribune, is now laboring as a missionary of the Methodist Episcopal Church There, as in every other Southern State, it is highly probable that the entire colored membership of the Southern Church will connect itself with Northern Methodism.

GENERAL NEWS.

Footing the Bill.—It is stated by the Paris correspondent of the London Morning Post that there was an on dit, in the diplomatic circles of Paris, that the claims of the United States upon England, on account of injuries inflicted upon American commerce by such British-built pirates as the Alabama, and certain counter-claims which England has started against this country, by way of set-off, will probably be adjusted by private arrangement. In plain words, that England will pay us a certain sum by way of indemnity—a conclusion which, to those who had carefully examined the question, seemed inevitable from the first.

The Albany Argus having run its own party into the ground by clinging to the institution of slavery, now that that is defunct, turns with loving embrace to its "twin"—polygamy. It says:

"When they catch a bigamist in England or France, the worst they do to him is to send him to Australia or Cayenne! Now these Mormons are self-banished to a settlement of the same kind—a self-sustaining institution, far removed from civilized life. Their offense and its penalties attend their exiles."

The Columbus (Ga.) Sun remarks that the citizens there who take the oath of allegiance are required to state their political opinions in 1860. On the books in the commandants office the Union signers largely predominate. Capt. Goble, so the story runs, was looking over the list, and after reading awhile he exclaimed in amazement, "If these few 'secesh' caused us all this trouble for the past four years, what couldn't they have done if all these Union men had joined them."

The sudden death of four healthy children belonging to a potter at Longton, near Birmingham, England, has excited some interest there. They were attacked with vomiting and purging, and a red rash; convulsions followed, then death. The food of the children had been like that of their parents, and there was no suspicions that poison had been administered to them. It was suggested that the deaths might be traced directly or indirectly to the disease which has been so destructive among cattle.

The Midland New York Railroad Company has been fully organized, and the initial subscription secured. It will traverse the Counties of Oswego, Madison, Chenango, Otsego, Delaware, Sullivan, Orange, most of which have hitherto enjoyed slender Railroad facilities. It will cost, when built and equipped, Ten Millions of Dollars, and will have added at least double that amount to the taxable wealth of our State.—New York Tribune.

A suit has been carried through the courts of New York having for its object, the collection of State, county, city and town taxes from the stockholders of National Banks. Our State Courts have decided such stock or shares to be taxable as personal property. On the 31st of this month the case is to be argued before the United States Supreme Court at Washington.

Gen. Grant gives it as his opinion that it is not desirable at present to remove the United States troops from states lately in rebellion, nor wise to put arms into the hands of the militia as a method to be relied on to preserve the tranquility of the South. Counsel from such a source will probably be heeded.

The United States Consul at [illegible] forms the [illegible] Nuremberg [illegible] of [illegible] Department of State that from and after January 1, 1866, passports will cease to be required of foreigners in Bavaria, excepting in the cases of persons seeking employment, those traveling with public exhibitions, peddlers, musicians, and the like.

A portion "of the veil of the Blessed Virgin Mary, inclosed in a small silver reliquary, and accompanied by a document, under the seal and signature of the Pope's secretary, authenticating the relic," was recently sold in London at the extremely low price of £4.

The prospect of the immediate admission of the Congressional delegation from Tennessee is slight, but private advices received in Washington assert that the Tennessee Legislature will immediately confer equal civil rights upon the freedmen.

TURKISH BANDOLENIAN.

Betrouvey's Turkish Bandolenian. What can be more acceptable than anything that will beautify? that will restore nature's decay by stopping the hair from falling out, restoring its natural color, making it to grow in luxuriance and beauty, assist in putting it up according to the present style and fashion and keep it in place? This Betrouvey's Turkish Bandolenian Hair Tonic will do, and for proof we refer you to any person who has tried it. It is acknowledged to be the beautifier of the age, the only Hair Tonic and Restorer worthy of the name. In Turkey, in France, in England, in America—everywhere where the "Bandolenian" is known—it is pronounced the ne plus ultra of Hair Preparations. Remember, it is free from all metallic poisons that are contained in most Hair Colors and dressings. It is the extract of many flowers and herbs, beautifully put up, an ornament to the toilet.

☞ AYER'S AGUE CURE, for the speedy cure of Intermittent Fever, or Fever and Ague, Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical Headache or Bilious Headache, and Bilious Fevers, indeed for the whole class of diseases originating in biliary derangement, caused by the Malaria of miasmatic countries.

Fever and Ague is not the only consequence of the miasmatic poison." A great variety of disorders arises from its irritation, in malarious districts, among which are Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Painful Affection of the Spleen, Hysterics, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis, and Derangement of the Stomach, all of which, when originating in this cause put on the intermittent type, or become periodical. This "CURE" expels the poison from the blood, and thus cures them all alike. It is not only the most effectual remedy ever discovered for this class of complaints, but it is the cheapest and moreover is perfectly safe. No harm can arise from its use, and the patient when cured is left as healthy as if he had never had the disease. Can this be said of any other cure for Chills and Fever? It is true of this, and its importance to those afflicted with the complaint cannot be over estimated. So sure is it to cure the Fever and Ague, that it may be truthfully said to be a certain remedy. One Dealer complains that it is not a good medicine to sell because one bottle cures a whole neighborhood.

Meeting of the Allegheny Bible Society—Reports of Committees—Election of a New Board, &c.

The Twenty-sixth Anniversary of the Allegheny Bible Society met last evening in Rev Dr. Clark's Church, (Second United Presbyterian). The evening was very inclement, yet there was a fair audience in attendance.

C. Yeager, President of the Society, called the meeting to order, when the Rev. Joseph King, of the First Disciple's Church, opened the exercises of the evening by reading the 9th Psalm, after which he offered an impressive petition to the Throne of Grace.

Mr. L. H. Eaton, Corresponding Secretary of the Society, then read the following Annual Report of the Board of Managers:

MANAGER'S REPORT.

During the past year the Board has steadily pursued the object for which it was created. The work of the Society is two fold: First, to supply all the destitute within the limits of its operations with the word of life, and second, to collect funds to supply the destitute in other sections of the State and throughout the world.

Mr. Robert Davis, our Missionary Agent, has devoted himself earnestly to his good work, and has met with the most gratifying success. In his daily visits our missionary has learned something of the "luxury of doing good." Every family found destitute of a Bible has been offered one "without money and without price." Our agent has been kindly received everywhere, and we cannot doubt that his faithful labors, followed by the prayers of God's people will result in much good.

The monthly reports of our Missionary abound in thrilling incidents, exhibiting most forcibly the importance of our work, and revealing the astounding fact that in this city of churches and Sabbath Schools, a very large amount of missionary work remains to be done.

The following statistics will show our doings for the year:

Families Visited	3,300
Families Destitute	238
Families Supplied	82
Families Refused	147
Bibles Donated	35
Testaments Donated	15
Bibles Sold	51
Testaments Sold	77
Amounts of Grants	$28 93
Amounts of Sales	$59 64
Donated to House of Refuge, Bibles	100
Donated to Home of Friendless, Bibles	15
Whole amount on subscription books up to January 16, 1866	$1,856 00
Outstanding on subscriptions	201 90
Cash collected	1,654 10
Cash on sales	59 64
Whole am't received from all sources	1,713 74
Add to this amount paid over to the Treasurer by Mr. Reineman, after the last Anniversary	191 00
Total amount received	$1,904 74

The year closes most auspiciously. Funds have flowed into our treasury, and our work has greatly prospered. A gigantic rebellion has been overthrown, and peace reigns throughout our borders. Four millions of human beings have been redeemed from bondage, and now beg for the Word of Life. Heathen nations are now more than ever, open for the reception of the Gospel.

The reading of the Scriptures, alone, may convert and reform the profane, the Sabbath-breaker and the drunkard. The words of inspiration aptly apply to us, "Freely ye have received: freely give."

The work of this society commends itself to every Christian. Why, then, may we not have the hearty co-operation of every denomination, and every individual church. In view of the enlarged field and greatly increased demand, our contributions for the coming year should at least be doubled.

We appeal to you as Christian men to give us your prayers, your contributions and your earnest support. Aid us in placing an open Bible in the hands of every freeman, and you not only add to human happiness, both present and future, but assist mightily in cementing and strengthening this great union.

Mr. James Patterson, Treasurer, presented the following report:

The congregation united in singing the Psalm 72d:

Yea, he shall, and giv'n to him
Shall be of Sheba's gold;
For him still shall they pray, and he Shall daily be extolled.

The opening address of the evening was delivered by Rev J. D. Herr, of the Methodist Protestant Church. His theme was the Bible—the Protestant Bible—and the sacred book has few defenders who can better set forth its Divine injunctions, or its transforming efficacy, in bringing men to the footstool of mercy and the fear of his Maker. Few speakers have a more happy manner of expressing their ideas than Rev. H., whose address was listened to with the most marked attention.

At the conclusion of the Reverend speaker's address, the congregation joined in singing the 23d Psalm, commencing—

"The Lord's my Shepherd; I'll not want;
He makes me down to lie
In pastures green: He leadeth me
The quiet waters by."

The closing address was delivered by Rev. J. G. Goettman, First English Lutheran Church, which made a deep impression upon the audience. He is an able reasoner and eloquent speaker, and ranks among the first pulpit orators of the day.

Rev. Mr. Eells, Secretary of the Pennsylvania Bible Society, being present, was requested to address the Society, which he did, in a brief, pointed and interesting manner.

The following Board of Directors were elected to serve during the year 1866:

New Coal Works.

The completion of the Pittsburgh and Steubenville Railroad, the new link in the the short line of the Pittsburgh, Columbus and Cincinnati Railroad, has opened a new and rich coal region to Pittsburgh. All along the line of that road coal of the best quality is abundant, and already some half-dozen new coal enterprises have been began, some of which are now ready to send coal to market, and others soon will be. In the course of a year or two the coal trade over this road must be very large.

Among the first to get into market with coal over this line is Mr. David Steen, who has opened a pit nearly opposite Mansfield, and is sending in daily supplies to the city, as well as Westward. Mr. Steen was formerly in the coal business on the Youghiogheny, in which he was very successful, and having had a long experience in the trade, he cannot fail to be as successful in this new region. He has a large body of very fine coal, immediately adjoining the railroad, at the Mansfield Station, only seven miles from the city; and he can therefore run in supplies rapidly. He has established a coal-yard in the city, adjoining "Hard-Scrabble," at the head of Fourth street, and near the mouth of the new tunnel; and as this gives him facilities for the rapid delivery of coal to almost all parts of the city, we have no doubt he will soon find himself busily engaged in filling orders.

The opening of new coal regions, from which the city can draw almost unlimited daily supplies of coal, is a matter of some importance to the city. The multiplication of these sources of competion, secures us against all fears of a future coal famine, and must result, we think, in the ultimate cheapening of this essential item of daily consumption. Such an effect will not be felt, perhaps, for some time to come; but let us rejoice at the opening of every new avenue of supply as a means to that end.

United States District Court.

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 16.—The Court met this morning, Judge McCandless presiding. His Honor designated J. S. Osterhaut as foreman of the Grand Jury. The usual charge was then delivered, and the jury retired to enter upon their duties.

The motion for a recommendation from the Court to the Secretary of the Treasury, for the release of the steamers "Bonnie Doon" and "H. A. Richmond," seized at the port of Erie, some time since for smuggling, was argued by Benj. Grant, Esq., and by District Attorney Carnahan in opposition. The Court will give a decision in a few days.

The case of James Prentice, indicted at the last term of Court for passing counterfeit money was then called up, and the accused placed on trial. The defendant is charged with having passed several counterfeit fifty cent notes at the store of Messrs. Eaton & Co., Fifth street, on the 13th of May last. When he was arrested he attempted to destroy the evidence of his guilt by chewing up a role of counterfeit money. Major A. M. Brown and C. B. M. Smith, Esq., appear for the defense, and District Attorney Carnahan for the prosecution. On trial.

Attempted Burglary in Allegheny.

On Monday night about twelve o'clock, the residence of Mrs. Altshouse, on Whig Alley, Fourth Ward, Allegheny, was entered by burglars, who succeeded in forcing open one of the windows. A young lady residing in the house, being awake at the time, and hearing an unusual noise in the dining room, gave the alarm, and the rascals were compelled to beat a hasty retreat before having opportunity to secure any plunder. Burglaries have become quite frequent in our sister city of late, and it is hoped that the perpetrators may be brought to justice.

Mrs. Grinder's Case.

Owing to the fact that the train was some hours behind time, Dr. Corwin did not reach this city until late last evening. Hence the consultation between him and Drs. Reed and King, in Mrs. Grinder's case, did not take place until a late hour, and was not even then concluded, but will be at a late hour this morning. There seems to be but little if any doubt of the unfortunate woman receiving a short respite, during which time the medical gentlemen named will have ample time to examine into her sanity, and upon their report, as we stated before, hangs the fate of the world-renowned female poisoner.

A Good Idea.—We understand that a well known citizen is making arrangements to feed about two two thousand persons per day, at an average price of thirty cents per meal, with all the marketable commodities of the season. The establishment will be open to the public in a day or two.

Oysters.—The finest and best flavored Oysters, can be had at all times, wholesale and retail, at No. 21 St. Clair street, of Buck & McLaughlin, agents for Wm. L. Ellis & Co.

George R. Riddle, Esq., asked leave to offer a preamble and resolutions, but they were decided out of order, as the convention had not yet organized.

Sheriff Stewart moved the appointment of a committee on permanent organization.

James McAuley, Esq., suggested that the appointment of a committee on organization would be a mere waste of time. Let the convention organize at once, by selecting a presiding officer.

Capt. Stewart withdrew his motion, and nominated Isaac Jones, Esq., for President.

Mr. Jones was unanimously chosen, and thanked the convention for the honor conferred upon him.

The temporary Secretaries were then continued.

George R. Riddle, Esq., then offered the following:

WHEREAS, The time and place for holding the State Convention of the Union party has not yet been designated; and whereas, there was not a quorum present at the meeting of the County Convention which issued the call for this Convention; and whereas, the claims of the several candidates mentioned for the office of Governor have not been sufficiently canvassed before the people, and the election of delegates to a Convention not yet called, to select a candidate for Governor for the great Union party of Pennsylvania would be premature, irregular and contrary to the uniform usages and practice of the Union party of this county, therefore

Resolved, That the County Committee be, and they are hereby respectfully requested to call another Convention to elect delegates to the State Convention as soon as the time and place for holding the State Convention shall be designated by the Union State Committee.

Resolved, That this Convention now adjourn sine die.

Captain Batchelor moved to lay the paper on the table.

Captain Stewart, as a member of the County committee, stated that the allegation set forth in the preamble that "there was not a quorum present at the meeting which called the convention," was not correct. At a meeting of the County Committee, held soon after its appointment, when there was a majority of the members present, a resolution was passed providing that three members should constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and when the call was issued there was considerably over a quorum present—at least six members.

Mr. Swartzwelder made a vigorous speech in support of the resolutions. Throwing out the objectionable part of the preamble, as erroneous, there were still good reasons for adjourning the convention. The call was premature, as it appeared that some twenty-four districts in the county were not represented. The purpose of the convention or "caucus," rather, was to elevate a certain party, and not to obtain a fair and just expression of the sentiments of the people.

J. F. Dravo, Esq., thought that due notice had been given, and his experience was that there never was a fuller convention held for a similar purpose. This convention could do the business as well as any other; and if another was called it would not be any larger, or more fully represent the sentiments of the people.

S. H. Geyer, Esq., remarked that the notice was unusually short—only ten days. The call had been published but once in the weekly papers, and many residing in the country districts had doubtless never seen it. The convention had been called against the usages and rules of the party, and he favored the adoption of the resolution. If the resolution was voted down, another convention might be called.

The yeas and nays were called upon the motion to lay on the table, and resulted—yeas, 65; nays, 30.

Wm. B. Negley, Esq., moved for the appointment of a committee of five, to draft resolutions. The motion was adopted, and the chair appointed Messrs. W. B. Negley, W. J. Gilmore, James McAuley, M. Swartzwelder, and J. F. Dravo.

Mr. Swartzwelder remarked that, holding the opinions which he did in regard to the manner in which the convention had been called, he could not consistently serve on the committee, and begged leave to decline. He was excused from serving, and Dr. Shaffer was added to the committee in his place.

The convention then took a recess until half-past one o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The Convention reassembled at the time designated, and was called to order by the Chairman.

Wm. B. Negley, Esq., Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, submitted the following report:

1. Resolved, That our members in Congress, Messrs. Williams and Moorhead, are able, efficient and faithful representatives, who honestly reflect and carry out the views of their constituents, and on all occasions are willing to be governed by the voice of the people.

2. Resolved, That this Convention, imposing unlimited trust in the hearty republicanism, fidelity and ability of Hon. James K. Moorhead, (as shown in his long public life and services,) hereby cordially commend him to the support of our political friends throughout the State as a candidate for Governor, and our delegates to the State Convention are hereby instructed to support and urge his nomination with all possible energy and zeal.

3. Resolved, That the west has a valid claim to the nomination for Governor, and that Allegheny county has a better claim to it than any other county in the west.

4. Resolved, That this Convention have an abiding confidence in the President, and that he will co-operate with Congress in establishing such a plan of re-construction as will secure irreversible quarters for the protection of the Freedmen and for the permanent future welfare and peace of the country.

4. Resolved, That we repel with indignation the idea that the President of our choice (who has been himself so eminently the object of rebel pulsation) is capable of betraying the generous confidence of the people of the loyal States, who made him what he is, by refusing to acquiesce in the will of the people, as the same way he declared by their representatives in Congress, or of responding to the invitation held out to him by presses and politicians who sympatize with the rebellion, to employ the great patronage of his office in breaking down the independent opinion of that body.

6. Resolved, That (in the language of the last Republican State Convention) "the mild and generous method of reconstruction offered by the President to the people lately in rebellion, in the judgment of this convention, has not been accepted in the spirit of honesty and gratitude, but with such evidence of defiance and hostility as to impel us to the conviction that they cannot be safely entrusted with the political rights which they forfeited by their treason, until they have proven their acceptance of the results of the war by incorporating them in constitutional provisions, and securing to all men within their borders the inalienable right of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

7. Resolved, That in settling the terms of admission at such future period as the Rebels may be able to show a sense of returning loyalty and attachment to the Union. We look to the Congress of the United States as the Representatives of the twenty millions of people of the loyal States, and the only law making power in this nation to see that the government of the returning States are essentially republican in form and substance, and that the loyal element therein shall not be subjected to the control or persecution of the traitors who carried the States into the Confederacy.

8. Resolved, That now, as always, we are in favor of a Protective Tariff; and in view of the immense burden of taxation the nation has to bear, we believe that now, more than ever, is it the duty of Congress to so revise the tariff as to make protection its object, instead of its incident, for only so long as our national industry is prosperous and our home markets active, can the people bear easily the taxation necessary to support the government and pay off the national debt.

9. Resolved, That the people of Allegheny county will expect their representatives in Congress to take counsel from their constituents alone, in this hour of public peril, and to defend the rights of the representative body, as the great palladium of our liberties, against all encroachments, from what quarter soever; and whether prompted by the insiduous counsels of our enemies, or the treachery of pretended friends.

10. Resolved, That the Convention urge the nomination and appointment of disabled soldiers to all the positions in the gift of the people, when the soldier wishing the position shall prove himself competent to discharge the same.

Capt. Stewart moved the adoption of the entire report.

Thos. Steel, Esq., moved to amend by making the adoption unanimous.

Capt. Stewart accepted the amendment, and the question was put and carried—Mr. Swartzwelder only voting in the negative.

The nomination of delegates to the State Convention was declared next in order.

The following named gentlemen were then placed in nomination:

Thomas M. Marshall,
A. L. Pearson,
John M. Kirkpatrick,
R. B. Carnahan,
John F. Dravo,
James M. Cooper,
John H. Hare,
Benj. Singerly,
Campbell B. Herron,
Gen. F. H. Collier,
R. W. Mackey,
A. H. Gross,
James Park, jr.,
J. J. Seibenick,
Thomas M. Bayne,
James O'Connor,
D. E. Hall.

Capt. B. W. Morgan moved that the eight nominees receiving the highest votes be declared elected—the two highest to be the Senatorial delegates. Carried.

Mr. J. A. Myler offered the following:

Resolved, That less than a majority of all the members of the County Committee shall not constitute a quorum to transact any business.

Mr. Myler alluded to the dissatisfaction which had been manifested in the Convention during the morning session, growing out of the manner in which the call had been issued, and thought it would be better for the interests of the party if in future all business should come before a full quorum of the Executive Committee.

Capt. Stewart fully endorsed the spirit of the resolution, but was opposed to its passage for the simple reason that if it was adopted no business would ever be transacted by the Committee, as no quorum could be had.

Mr. McAuley favored the resolution. If it was right in spirit it ought to be adopted. If the members of the Committee would not attend to their business, let their heads be cut off and men selected who would attend to their duties.

A motion to lay the resolution on the table was lost.

A vote was then taken, and the resolution was adopted.

The ballot having been taken, the result was announced as follows:

*Marshall	92
*Kirkpatrick	88
*Carnahan	61
*Dravo	82
*Collier	79
*Hall	67
*Mackey	73
*Hare	85
Cooper	16
Pearson	51
Singerly	50
Gross	36
Park	19
Seibeneck	58
Bayne	13
O'Connor	1
Herron	5

Thomas M. Marshall and John M. Kirkpatrick, Esqs., were declared the Senatorial delegates, and Messrs. Dravo, Carnahan, Hare, Collier, Hall and Mackey the Representative delegates.

The Convention then adjourned.

Other Important Arrests—More Stolen Goods Found—Mayor Lowry's Police Closing Up Their Business.

The reader will remember the robbery of Douglass' hat store a few nights since, and the arrest of Herman, alias, Conner, and the recovery of a portion of the stolen goods. On Monday we made mention of the arrest of a Mrs. Weaver who was supposed to know something about the antecedents of Herman, but being a shrewd, sharp woman, she kept her own counsel, and but little, if any, was gained from her, and she was yesterday discharged from custody, and a "shadow" placed upon her movements.

Yesterday afternoon Herman made a bold attempt to escape from the tombs. He, by some means, procured one of the wire bars used for fastening the cell doors, and went to work with a will to-day through to the adjoining cell, but before he had succeeded officer Culp discovered his design, and took him to other quarters. In searching the cell in which he had been confined, two letters were found, one directed to Mark Dealy, and the other to Michael Panner. After perusing these missiles Chief Long, in company with officers Wilmot, Culp and Kemp, early this morning, visited the residence of Deary, on Ohio street, and found him in bed. Here they found a fur victorine, several muffs, fur cuffs and a hood. After taking Dealy into custody, guided by the information contained in the letters before referred to, as well as by the admissions of Deary, the officers succeeded in securing a victorine and muff. They went to a board pile, where a portion of the stolen property had been secreted, and found three fur caps and two dozen of shawl pins.

The officers then proceeded to Dealy's sister-in-law's, where they found a set of valuable furs, a victorine, muff and cuffs. From here they proceeded to Panner's residence, where they found a pair of boots, which have been identified by Mr. Hall, the young man who usually slept in the store, but who was necessarily absent at the time of the robbery, and who has since lodged an information against Herman for larceny.

The party after taking Panner into custody, proceeded to a lager beer hall on Federal street where they secured a pair of fine fur gloves worth $12 and a skating cap valued at $10. Deary and Panner are in the lock-up and will doubtless be committed as accomplices of Herman alias Connor.

It will thus be seen that through the untiring vigilance of the Mayor and his police, the principal and his accessories in the Douglass robbery have been arrested and the greater portion of the stolen property recovered. The out-going police, having about finished up the business of the past two years, seem willing to enjoy a respite for the brief term left of their official careers.

The Case of Mrs. Grinder.

Thos. M. Marshall, counsel for Mrs. Martha Grinder, now under sentence of death for poisoning Mrs. Caruthers, and sentenced to be hanged on Friday next, received a telegram from Hon. Eli Slifer, to-day, directing that Dr. Reed, of Dixmont hospital, and Dr. J. King, late Surgeon General, meet Dr. Corwin, of Harrisburg, for the purpose of making inquiry into the sanitary condition of the condemned woman. Drs. Reed and King promptly responded, and as we write the consultation is being held, and upon their report to the Secretary of State hangs the fate of Mrs. Grinder for the present. If we understand the matter aright the consultation of these medical gentlemen has been sought by Mr. Slifer for the purpose of guiding him to a proper discharge of his duty in granting the condemned woman the respite asked for her.

Inquest on the Body of John McClay.

Coroner Clawson held an inquest this morning upon the body of John McClay, otherwise known as John Gebhart, at the Allegheny Mayor's office. Some ten witnesses were examined, and after a full and careful investigation of the circumstances attendant on the death of the deceased the jury returned a verdict that he "came to his death from wounds received, and exposure, while laboring under the influence of Mania a Potu." The Coroner, Chief Elkin and officer Scott of the Allegheny police deserve credit for their untiring efforts to procure the necessary witnesses in the case. From the testimony it was clearly evident that there was no foul play and that the deceased received the injuries already described in our columns from a fall, and that he subsequently, while being insensible, froze to death. The remains will be interred from the residence of his aunt, on Beaver street, to-morrow.

The New Board.—We made brief mention this morning of the election of Messrs. J. A. Hutchinson, Capt. J. T. Stockdale, Capt. D. S. H. Gilmore, Chas. E. Speer, and as A. S. Bell as Directors of the Pittsburg and Manchester Passenger Railway Company. The Board, with the single exception of Mr. Bell, are all new men, but from their well known business energies, the interests of the road, as well as the accommodation of the public, will be safe in their hands. Mr. Hutchinson succeeds Mr Irwin, who has so long been Pres't of the road and who retires with the consciousness of having performed his whole duty. That Mr. H. will make an energetic and faithful officer, no one at all acquainted with his business qualities and sterling integrity will for a moment doubt, and as this is the age of improvement and progress, we may safely anticipate that the new President, advised and aided by the co-members of the Board, will afford increased facilities to the traveling public.

Neptune Steam Fire Engine and Hose Company Election.—The annual meeting of this Company was held on the 8th inst., and the following gentlemen elected officers for the ensuing term: President, John H. Stewart, Vice President, Samuel Bausman, Secretary, David Glass, Assistant Secretary, T. J. Kolbecker, Treasurer, William Burke, Jr., Captain W. J. Robinson; First Lieutenant, William McCullin; Second Lieutenant, Edward McCafferty, Board of Directors, John Geisler, Charles Stewart, Frank Kirkpatrick, R. A. Colville, Frank Montague; Delegates to the Firemen's Association, William Burke, one year, R. A. Colville, three years. Collecting Committee, S. A. Vetter, William Burke, Jr., Nathan Jones.

A Warning to Boys.—A lad whose name we deem it unnecessary to mention, was arrested by officer Hess, at the Federal street depot of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad, last night, while acting in a very disorderly manner. He was discharged this morning with a severe reprimand. There is a gang of youths who make the station house a loafing place, and Mayor Morrison is determined to put a stop to their evil practices.

Birmingham Passenger Railway.—Yesterday morning an election for a new Board of Directors for the Pittsburg and Birmingham Passenger Railway Company was held at the office of the Company in this city. The stockholding interest was largely represented, and the choice was very unanimous. The following named gentlemen were elected for the ensuing year: W. M. Hersh, Wm. K. Nimick, Jno. McD. Crossan, B. F. Jones, M. W. Beltzhoover.

Recovered.—A valuable flute, stolen from the office of Mr. Lamb, a lumber merchant in the First Ward, Allegheny, in November last, was recovered by Officer Campbell, of the Allegheny police, on Monday. It was found at the pawn office of Le Roy, on Smithfield street, in this city, and identified by the owner. Herman, who is alleged to have robbed Douglas's hat store on Wood street, is supposed to be the thief.

Academy of Music.—We understand that Miss Etta Henderson has leased the new building now being erected on the site of the old Athenaum, on Liberty street, which she proposes converting into an Academy of Music. When the edifice approaches completion we may find space for an extended description of the structure as well as the purposes to which Miss Henderson designs dedicating it.

Correction.—In the list of Directors of the Manchester Railway, the name of Alex. Speer is given instead of Charles E. Speer, who was the gentleman chosen.

A plethora of money, co-existing with declining values at the stock boards, is apparent everywhere, and the prominent topic of conversation in financial circles just now is as to the effect which this abundance of capital seeking temporary investment, and the depression of public confidence, are likely to produce on general business. At New York the range of call loans is now from 5 to 6 per cent, and in some instances on Saturday, it is stated, even as low as 4 per cent. There are few borrowers, careful persons seeming rather desirous of avoiding all engagements and wishing to contract obligations as far as possible. The case in money is attributed, in part to the closing up of the annual avenues employing it, to the increase of unemployed funds arrising from half-yearly dividends, as evidenced by accumulation of National Bank notes in the banks. The depression of public confidence (as denoted in the weekly fluctuations of the stock market and general average decline,) is closely connected with the anticipated contraction movement of the Secretary of the Treasury, though it is thought that this vague feeling of distrust will pass away entirely when the practical nature of the measure is fully known. Upon the proposal to authorize a foreign loan the 5-20's of 1862 were at first depressed, but after mature consideration it is now concluded that Congress will discard this feature of the proposed measure, and the bill is construed as foreshadowing an early attempt to fund 7-30's into a long loan, with the effect to make Treasury notes decidedly firmer. In the markets generally large investments are being made of surplus funds in 7-30s and certificates of indebtedness. The continued falling off in Railway earnings of course has its effect upon railroad stocks. In addition to the decline of traffic consequent upon the cessation of war, the short wheat crop of the West has its effect, as well as the opening of the Mississippi river again to general commerce. Trade and transportation of the West is thus being diverted back again somewhat to its former channels, and heavy freights will find their way to the Atlantic cities, to a more or less extent, by the rivers and coast.

—The tables of imports are well calculated to cause a shudder and fill the mind with apprehension. The tendency to extravagance, not to say vice, thus stimulated, is even more alarming than the financial aspect. Notwithstanding the war cut off one-third of the consumers, the importations of dry goods alone at the port of New York during the period of the war continued to ascend from $43,633,670 in 1861 to $91,965,138 in 1865. The importations for the first half the past year were $24,000,000, while for the last six months they reached $67,400,000. This immense increase is in part owing to the termination of the war, which stimulates large orders by importers for the southern States; but much of the increase is to meet the increased demand in our own market.

—The Chicago Evening Journal, of Monday says:

The rain and snow of last week rendered the roads in the country almost impassible, and the receipts of hogs have fallen off materially, so that the demand for Money from the interior is not so pressing, yet there is no perceptible improvement in the supply, and borrowers find as much difficulty as ever in obtaining accommodations at the Banks. Reliable reports from along the western lines of railway are to the effect that the receipts of hogs during the present week will be very heavy.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, January 16, 1866.

CATTLE—The supply of cattle was comparatively light this week, not exceeding 1000@1100 head, and of this number not over 900 head changed hands. The market, notwithstanding the limited supply, was not very active, there being but very few eastern buyers in attendance, while prices, as compared with last week, have undergone no material change. As already intimated, the demand was pricipally of a retail character, and consequently we have but comparatively few wholesale operations to report, the great bulk of the cattle sold being taken by our butchers. The quality of the cattle on sale, was about up to the usual standard, and, as nearly always is the case common and inferior sold very slowly, and only at low figures, while prime to extra sold without much difficulty at full prices. We give 7½ to 8, as the ruling rates for prime to extra grades, although Messrs Hazelwood & Dolan sold a car load of extra fat Kentucky cattle at 8½.

HOGS—Market quiet and dull, with but little doing outside the retail trade. So far this week, none of our packers have bought, and the sales in the aggregate have been light, and prices remain without quotable change. Messrs. Emerick & Co. bought 22 head averaging 320, at 9,40; and 91, averaging 270, at 9½. In addition to the above, there were the usual retail sales at a variety of prices, ranging from 9½ to 10¼, as to condition and quality.

SHEEP—Very little done in this grade of stock this week. There were one or two small droves wholesaled, and retailed, at prices ranging from 6 to 7 cents, gross.

SALES OF CATTLE.

A. Taylor to Greenwald & Kahn 22 head of fairish Ohio Cattle at 6¾.

C. Wolfe retailed 20 head of mixed Ohio cattle 5 to 8c—6 head left over.

Grey & Blair shipped 90 prime Illinois steers to Baltimore; Kerwin & Crum retailed 30 head for same firm at 6¾@7¾; and McAllister sold 14 for same parties at about same prices.

L. Rothchilds & Eckert retailed 43 head of mixed stock at 4½@7½; also sold 2 extra cows to Geo. Evans, (butcher) at $100 per head. Hoffner sold 17 head of bulls to Rothchilds & Eckert at 4¾.

C. Marks wholesaled 20 head of extra steers to C. Metz at 7¾, and retailed 20 head at 7½ to 8.

Marks & Trauman retailed 100 mixed stock at prices ranging from 5 to 8c.

Glass & Lafferty retailed 18 head of mixed stock for Billy Holmes, at 4½ to 8¼.

Cope to Mairtland 15 common cows, averaging 1000, at 5.

Merrick & Dond retailed 45 head; Greenwald & Kahn 42 at from 5 to 7,60.

Myers & Bro. sold to Boon 20, averaging 1000, at 6¼; retailed 49 at 6@8. Crouse & Haas retailed 21 at 5@7.

Hashhouser retailed 84 for Messrs. Levi and Daube at from 5¼ to 7¼.

Hazlewood & Dolan to Wm. Reis 16 extra fat Kentucky cattle at 8¾; 16 to same buyer at 7; and retailed 36 at 4½@7.

There were several other small lots retailed, the particulars of which we were unable to learn.

Detroit Grain Market.

DETROIT, Jan. 13.—Wheat market is nominally unchanged as to prices. The receipts continue light, and choice white rules rather in favor of the seller, the decline in New York having produced very little effect upon those grades. There are buyers at $1,95 for No. 1 white, and $2 for extra do, free on board, and sellers at $2 for extra white, and $1,75 for No. 1 amber.

Corn—Store lots steady at 56c, and quiet. On the street the supply is large at 56.

Oats—Offered freely on 'Change at 33c, f. o. b. and held at same figure in bags. Street price 36 cts.

Barley—In plentiful supply and limited demand. We quote at $1,40@1,75 per 100 lbs according to quality.—Tribune.

Baltimore Coffee Market.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 13.—The decline in gold has tended rather to depress the market for coffee and there has been very little doing in it this week. Sales of only 200 to 300 bags Rio have been reported, and nothing in other descriptions. Although the market is rather heavy, prices are pretty well maintained, and we quote to-day as follows, viz: Rio at 17½@18½c, gold for common to fair, 19@20¼c, gold for good to prime 20½@20¾c gold for choice, Laguayra at 21½@23½c gold, and Java at 28@28½c gold. There have been no imports this week, but there are two or three cargoes of Rio expected here daily.

Milwaukee Market.

Jan. 13.—Mess Pork $27; extra prime pork, $19; pickled hams 13½c; dry salted shoulders 10¾c; prime lard 17c; freight to New York, per 100 lbs, 85c; dressed hogs, per 100 lbs net, 11c; receipts of hogs to-day 1350; No 1 spring wheat in store, subject to 4c per bush storage to 20th April next, $1,23½; No 2 spring wheat in store, $1,42.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, Jan. 16, 1866.

The dullness and inactivity noted in commercial circles for some time past still continues, and worse than all, there are no indications at present of any immediate improvement. The most remarkable transaction we have to report is a sale of Cotton, Messrs. Isaiah Dickey & Co. having sold 32 bales, repacked, to one of our cotton mills to-day at 39c. This is the first sale of any moment we have had to record previous to the rebellion.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet and unchanged; sale of 1 car fair Red at $1,92½. Oats in better demand and a shade higher; sale in three lots of 700 bush, on track, at 47. Barley is dull and nominally unchanged. Sale of 1 car Shelled Corn at 68, delivered; also, small sales from store at 72@73. Rye is quiet and unchanged—but little offering.

FLOUR—Continues quiet and dull, with a supply somewhat in excess of the demand, but prices are nominally unchanged. Small sales from store at $8¾@8½ for Spring Wheat, and $10½@10¾ for good to choice brands of Winter Wheat. Buckwheat Flour is selling at $5 to $5¼ per cwt. Rye Flour dull and unchanged.

GROCERIES—The grocery market is quiet dull, but there is no material change to make in quotations. Rio Coffee is still quoted at 30 to 32 for fair to strictly choice. Cuba Sugar is selling at 14 to 14¼; Porto Rico do, 15 to 15¼; Crushed, 19¼@20; "A" Coffee, 18¾ to 19; "B" Coffee, 18 to 18½. Porto Rico Molasses, 90 to $1; New Orleans do $1,25. Rangoon Rice, 11½; North Carolina, 12¼.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quoted steady, with a moderate jobbing demand at previous quotations. Lard is in good supply and dull but unchanged; prime kettle rendered is quoted at 19@19½, in tierces. Dressed Hogs are selling at 10½@11½ for good averages, and the receipts are falling off. No movement in Bulk Meats or Mess Pork.

BUTTER—There is no improvement to note in the demand for Butter, and the arrivals continue large. We give 28 to 30 cents as the ruling figures for good to prime Roll.

EGGS—Dull but unchanged, fresh packed being quoted at 30.

CHEESE—Is quoted quiet but steady at 21 for Hamburg, and 22 for Goshen.

POTATOES—Steady with a very good local demand at $1,15 to $1,20 per bushel, and $3,50 to $3,75 per bbl, as to quality.

APPLES—Are firm with a good demand, and we continue to quote at $6½ to 7¼ per bbl.

CRANBERRIES—Dull but nominally unchanged—$13 to $15 per bbl.

HOMINY—Is selling in a small way at 4@4¼.

HAY—Is dull with a drooping tendency. Sales at scales at $16 to $18 per ton.

BEANS—Sales in small lots from store at $1¾ @2 per bushel.

SALT—May be quoted quiet at $2,80 per bbl, by the car load, and $3 to $3,10 for small lots from store.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE
TUESDAY, Jan. 16, 1866.

There was some little stir in the Crude market to-day, and several small sales were effected, but prices have still further declined, and even at the decline the demand is very much restricted. Sale of 105 bbls at 22¼, bbls returned; 200 do do at 22¼; 60 do do at 22; and 139 on private terms—understood to be at 23. For Refined, in Bond, there is no demand whatever, either for present or future delivery, and while the market is dull and heavy, quotations, in the absence of sales, cannot be given with any degree of correctness. Private advices from Philadelphia quote at 54, and it was thought 53 would be accepted—if offered. Free Oil is also dull and neglected, with an occasional small sale at 73@74. In Naptha or Residuum, there is no movement whatever.

NEW YORK, January 16, 1866.

NEW YORK PETROLEUM MARKET.

Special Dispatch to Western Press.

NEW YORK, January 16, 1866.

The Petroleum Market remains dull, with sales of 1,000 bbls. crude, for February, at 34½c, and 1,000 bbls refined, in bond, at 54½c, same terms, on the spot. Crude is quoted at 36, and refined at 55.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

Finance and Trade in New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The stock market has taken another spasmodic upward turn. The bulls hope to realize an improvement upon covering of short contracts, and therefore sustain the market. At the same time, the bears think the market sufficiently short to give their opponents the advantage, and are putting out few options. The outside bidders stand aloof from speculation, and brokers operating for a rise have to carry the whole burthen of the market. At the morning board prices about recovered all they lost yesterday afternoon, but the market was not active. It continued strong during the day, but weakened somewhat toward the close. At the last board there was great excitement, and a large business was done in Pittsburgh.

The following were the closing prices at 4:30 P. M.: Reading, 102¼; Michigan Southern, 69½; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 78¾; Rock Island, 104¾; North Western, 31½; do, preferred, 58¾. Government Securities quiet, but on the whole firm. Gold interest bonds are supported by the expectation of higher quotations from London by the next steamer. 5-20's were ⅛ better; 7-30's in steady demand from firms desiring to employ their surplus funds. Payment of interest on 7-30's has contributed to further the ease of money. Liberal amounts are offered at 5 per cent. Gold firm and in better demand for custom duties; there is little speculation and very slight fluctuations. The market closed at 139⅛. State bonds were dull with but few sales. Miscellaneous stocks steady but generally quiet.

New York Market.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—COTTON—A shade firmer with a moderate inquiry at 51½@52c for Middling.

FLOUR—Rather more steady, with a very moderate demand at $7,75@8,00 for Extra State; $8,40@8,60 for R. H. O; and $8,70@10,30 for trade brands, market closing steady.

WHISKY—Without decided change; State and Western, $2,26@2,28.

GRAIN—Wheat quiet and firmer, but without decided change. Corn, heavy, and 1c lower, 83@85c for unsound, and 86@89 for sound mixed Western, in store and delivered. Oats, dull and lower, at 44@50c for unsound, and 60@61c for sound.

PETROLEUM—Dull, at 35c for Crude, and 55@56c for Refined in bond. Crude, for February, 34½c; sales 1,000 bbls in bond, 55¼c; for Feruary, 54½c.

PROVISIONS—Pork opened unsettled and lower, but closed firmer, with a good demand at $31,25 for New Mess, and closing at $31,50 regular; $30,00@35,000 for old, do, and $23,00 for prime New Mess; also 475 lbs New Plain Mess, for January, February, March and April, sellers option, at $29,62½@31,00. Beef, quiet at $16,50@20,00 for New Plain Mess, and $21,00@24,50 for New Extra Mess. Hams, quiet. Cut Meats, firm, at 11@13c. Shoulders, 15@17c for Hams. Bacon, firm and quiet. Dressed Hogs, firm, at 12½@12¾c for Western, and 13¼@13½c for City. Lard, quite firm, at 15¾@16½c; also, 2,500 bbls, for February and March, sellers option, at 18¼@18¾c. Butter, dull, at 20@33c for Ohio; 25@38c for State. Cheese, dull, at 12@18c.

Philadelphia Market.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—The snow storm has blocked up the wharves and interfered with discharging vessels here. Trade, very dull. Breadstuffs quoted at yesterday's prices; Petroleum unsettled, sales of Crude at 30@35 Refined in bond, at 53@55c; Refined free, at 74@78c. Whisky, dull; sales at $2,27@2,28.

Mining Stocks.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The following quotations were bid at Boston to-day: Copper Falls, 26; Franklin, 36¼; Hancock, 12¼; Huron, 37; Isle Royal, 12; Minnesota, 16; Quincy, 52; Bay State, 8¼; Waverly, 4¼.

New York Cattle Market.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The current prices for the week at the market are:

BEEF CATTLE—First quality, $17,50@18,00; fair to good, $14,00@17,50; common, $11,50@13,50; inferior, $9@11.

COWS AND CALVES—Extra, $100@120; first quality, $80@95; ordinary, $65@75; common, $50@60; inferior, $45@50.

SWINE—For heavy corn-fed, 10½@11; light and medium, 10¼@10½; still-fed, 10¼@10¾.

The market for beef cattle is depressed by the increased receipts and unfavorable weather, and prices closed fully 1c. below last week's quotations for all except the best, some of which sold at full prices. The bulk of the sales were at 14@17½c for ordinary to fair western cattle. Some sold at 16@17c. Each would have sold last week at 17@18c. Hogs fairly active. The receipts are: beeves, 5,952; cows, 1,050; veals, 540; sheep and lambs, 20,972; swine, 14,547. Last week: beeves, 5,598; cows, 109; veals, 333; sheep and lambs, 22,817; swine, 18,912.

Detroit Lumber Market.

DETROIT, Jan. 13.—The market is inactive, and prices have undergone no material change. The want of snow is severely felt in the eastern part of the State. On the west coast, there is a fair amount of snow, and the lumbermen are improving it to good advantage in getting out logs. All concerned seem to realize that logs will be worth the rhino the coming season—that they will be as good as "legal-tender."

Boston Iron Market.

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—The market for pig is rather dull, but the small stocks offering continue to sustain full prices. The decline in gold will be likely to effect the value of invoices of foreign now on the way, which consideration induces buyers to hold off.
